Covering The Cardinals

Game Day

Credential Requests

Members of the news media who have not been issued season press credentials should request single-game credentials in writing on appropriate letterhead at least seven days in advance of the desired game. Mail or FAX requests to Paul Jensen, Director of Public Relations, P.O. Box 888, Phoenix, AZ 85001–0888. All credentials are issued to individuals. Credentials are not transferable!

(Public Relations FAX: 602/379–1821)

Credential Delivery

All credentials will be mailed as time allows. Otherwise, they may be claimed at the Cardinals' public relations office at the team's training facility in south Tempe, Arizona during normal working hours or with proper identification at the "will call" window located in the south end of Sun Devil Stadium (Fifth Street) on game days. "Will call" opens three hours prior to kickoff.

Media Stadium Entrance

The media entrance to Sun Devil Stadium is located at the southwest corner above the television parking pad for press already holding credentials.

Photographers

Sideline photography in the National Football League is limited to working media on specific assignment for a recognized sports publication or news service. No free-lance photographers will be accommodated. No one except network television and authorized game personnel will be admitted to the field without a camera. All field photographers must remain outside the bench areas and behind the broken lines that surround the entire perimeter of the playing field. All credentialed grips and messengers must remain on the perimeter of the playing field.

Telephones

The Cardinals provide numerous telephone extensions from the Arizona State University telephone system throughout the press box at Sun Devil Stadium. Media outlets desiring dedicated lines should place orders by contacting U.S. West Communications, 602/630–6314, for lines, and AT&T, 1–800/555–8111, for instruments.

Locker Room Access/Post-Game Interviews

Members of the media wishing to conduct post-game interviews in the home and visiting locker rooms will be given access to players and coaches after the suggested "cooling-off" period following the conclusion of the game. Access is available only to individuals holding working credentials or a locker room pass which is distributed in the press box during the fourth quarter.

Locker Room Locations

Both locker rooms are located in a separate building outside the north end of Sun Devil Stadium. The Arizona dressing room is the first room on the right; the visitors' dressing room is at the end of the hallway. Arizona Head Coach Vince Tobin conducts his post-game interview in a separate interview room directly across the hall from the Cardinals' locker room. The visiting head coach is available in proximity to his locker room.

Press Box/Locker Room Routing

To reach the locker rooms from the press box, media must take the elevator to the main concourse level. There is no suitable path to walk to ground level from the press box. Emerging from the elevator at ground level, proceed north (left) along the stadium concourse. Walk to field level through the stands. Members of the media will be permitted to view the conclusion of the game from inside the field fence at the northwest corner of the field. They will be allowed to proceed to the dressing rooms after the game participants have exited the playing field. Media members are asked not to attempt to interview game participants—players and coaches—as they exit the field.

Parking

There are 181 parking spaces in the Cardinals' press parking lot located just southwest of Sun Devil Stadium along the railroad tracks. Auxiliary parking for the media is located in the ASU parking garage just south of the stadium on the south side of Fifth Street.

FAX Service

Media needing FAX service should contact a member of the Cardinal public relations staff prior to the game to fill out a simple form outlining their needs. A $10 fee is charged for long-distance FAXing.

During The Week

General Protocol

For the Cardinals' public relations office to better serve media needs, all members of the print and electronic press are asked to stop in the public relations office upon arrival at the training facility. All photographers must notify the public relations office of their presence prior to gaining access to the practice field.

Player Interviews

During the regular-season work week, Cardinal players typically are available to the media in the locker room during their lunch period. There is no media access to players on Tuesdays, their off day. Additional interview access also is available outside the locker room after the daily workouts and during prearranged appointments made through the public relations department.

Vince Tobin Interviews

Cardinal Head Coach Vince Toom is available to the media as he leaves the practice field following each day's workout. On Tuesdays, the players' off day, Tobin conducts his interview session at approximately noon in the public relations department.

Assistant Coaches/Staff Interviews

Interviews with Cardinal assistant coaches and other members of the organization should be arranged through the public relations office.

Opponent Coach/Player Interviews

The head coach and a player from the Cardinals' upcoming opponent are interviewed via conference call midweek, usually Wednesday. Contact the Cardinals' public relations office each week to verify times.

PRESIDENT

Bill Bidwill

William V. Bidwill's association with the Cardinals began as a child ball boy on Chicago's South Side and continues today as owner and president.

The 66-year-old Chicago native presides over the oldest continuously-operated professional football franchise that dates to 1898. The Cardinals and the Chicago Bears are the two charter members of the National Football League (1920).

The Cardinals have remained in the Bidwill family since William's father, Charles, a prominent Chicago sports figure and member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame, purchased the team in 1932. Charles ran the club until his death in the Cardinals' NFL championship year of 1947. His wife, Violet, guided the franchise's fortunes for the next 15 years, followed jointly by sons William and Charles, Jr. (Stormy). William became sole owner in 1972.

Named a Cardinal vice president during his undergraduate days at Georgetown University, William Bidwill returned to Chicago from the Navy in 1956 to begin assisting family interests that included football. When the Cardinals moved to St. Louis in 1960, Bidwill returned to the organization on a full-time basis.

Bidwill remains involved in all areas of the Cardinals' day-to-day operation. He operates the organization in south Tempe, Arizona from its award-winning training facility that the team has called home since construction was completed in September, 1990.

He has been credited with his leading role in bringing Super Bowl XXX to Arizona on January 28, 1996. He also was a pivotal voice in Arizona's original award of Super Bowl XXVII.

An active supporter of various civic and charitable organizations and endeavors, Bidwill directed the formation of Cardinal Charities, the team's organization dedicated to supporting worthy Arizona causes, shortly after the Cardinals arrived in the state.

Bidwill currently is seated on three NFL committees—Broadcasting Committee, Retirement Board Trustees (Bert Bell and Pete Rozelle Plans), and the Realignment Committee.

Bidwill and his wife, Nancy, are the parents of five children.

VICE PRESIDENT

Larry Wilson

Larry Wilson, one of the greatest defensive backs in NFL history, has enjoyed a career that spans 38 years as a player and front-office executive.

A 1978 inductee into the Pro Football Hall of Fame, Wilson received another milestone honor in 1994 when he was named to the NFL's all-time team announced to commemorate the league's 75th anniversary.

A legendary defensive back for the Cardinals during their first 13 seasons in St. Louis and one of only four players in franchise history to have his jersey retired, the 59-year-old Wilson's NFL career began with 13 seasons (1960–72) as a player and has continued with a variety of administrative posts.

Wilson started his climb up the team's organizational ladder as director of professional scouting (1973–76) and director of professional personnel (1977–88). He also guided the team as interim head coach for the final three games of the 1979 season, earning credit for victories over the San Francisco 49ers and New York Giants.

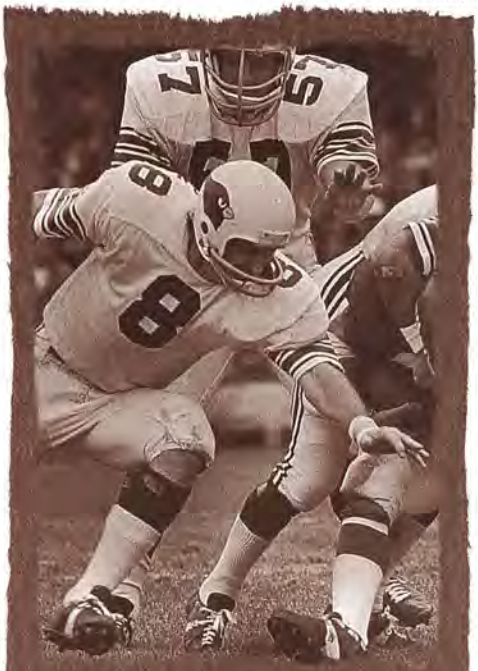
During the Cardinals' inaugural season in Phoenix in 1988, Wilson was appointed vice president and general manager to guide the franchise's football fortunes as it entered a new era in Arizona, a position he held through the 1993 season. During that span, Wilson hired a new head coach (Joe Bugel) and director of college scouting (Bob Ackles), played an active part in planning the Cardinals' state-of-the-art training facility, took a prominent role in the team's draft decision making, and implemented an aggressive approach to free agency.



Vice President Larry Wilson, a Hall of Fame defensive back and a member of the NFL's all-time team, is synonymous with Cardinal football.

As a player, Wilson reached legendary status as a hard-hitting six-time all-pro and eight-time Pro Bowl free safety, appearing in 169 NFL games—all as a Cardinal—from 1960–72. His name is referenced throughout the Cardinal record book. He still owns club records for career interceptions (52), career interception yardage (800), career interception returns for touchdowns (5), and single-game interception return yardage (115). His 96-yard interception return for a touchdown against Cleveland on December 19, 1965 remains the longest in Cardinal history and his 91-yard interception for a touchdown the following year against Philadelphia remains third on the same list. He led the Cardinals in interceptions six times and intercepted three passes in a single game twice.

In 1966, he enjoyed one of his finest seasons with an NFL-leading 10 interceptions, including three in one game against the Chicago Bears on October 31, while tying a league record by intercepting a pass in seven consecutive games.

Wilson also holds the Cardinal record for longest fumble return, an 88-yard jaunt for a touchdown at Green Bay on December 21, 1969. It was one of two career fumbles he returned for touchdowns and one of 12 career fumbles he recovered, the latter ranking fifth in Card annals.

Born in Rigby, Idaho, Wilson was a running back at the University of Utah. He was recruited to the Salt Lake City school by Ute assistant coach Andy Everest, father of Cardinal special-teams coach Al Everest.

Wilson was selected by the Cardinals in the seventh round of the 1960 NFL Draft. After converting to the defensive backfield due to injuries, Wilson and coach Chuck Drulis innovated one of today's most potent and exciting aspects of defensive football—the safety blitz.

Wilson and his wife, Nancy, reside in Scottsdale, Arizona.

HEAD COACH

Vince Tobin

Small-town roots. Big-time success. That's Arizona Cardinals Head Coach Vince Tobin.

A product of the small northwest Missouri farming community of Burlington Junction—population 634—Tobin was named the Cardinals' 35th head coach on February 7, 1996.

He arrived in the Grand Canyon State for his first head-coaching position in 1996 armed with respect around the National Football League after coordinating two of the league's finest defenses at Indianapolis and Chicago.

His dossier also included Midwestern breadbasket values—humility, dignity, family, character, dedication, work ethic, and religion.

He emerged from his first season as a head coach with his reputation and integrity intact after first reviving the 4–12 Cardinal squad he inherited, then rallying it from the growing pains of an 0–3 start to a 7–9 season with improvement and promise in evidence in every direction.

Small-Town Upbringing

Tobin learned life lessons as only a farm can teach. He milked cows before dawn. He baled hay. He tended cattle. He slept in an unheated bedroom. He and his six brothers and sisters never missed Sunday school. Chores preceded sports and other activities in the family pecking order.

Burlington Junction's streets did not have names. It didn't have high school football, either, so Tobin and his older brother by two years, Bill, now vice president and director of football operations for the Indianapolis Colts, commuted over 30 miles round trip to attend Maryville High School—the Spoofhounds—in order to participate in the sport that would shape both lives as adults.

Mizzou

Both eventually earned scholarships to the University of Missouri — Bill as a star running back, Vince as an undersized, overachieving defensive back.

Vince Tobin arrived in Columbia, Missouri in 1961 on a partial football scholarship. After Mizzou varsity Head Coach Dan Devine watched Tobin tackle Kansas Jayhawk running back and future NFL Hall of Famer Gale Sayers three times in the open field during a freshmen game, Tobin had earned a full scholarship.

He also learned how to win. During his four seasons in the Missouri program, the Tigers posted a 28–9–4 composite record. As a starter in 1963 and '64, Tobin helped Mizzou post back-to-back 7–3 and 6–3–1 campaigns while earning a bachelor's degree in education.

After contemplating the priesthood, Tobin opted for a coaching career, beginning his 29-year journey to the Cardinals at his alma mater in 1965 as a graduate assistant, a position that also eventually led to a master's degree in guidance and counseling. He remained at Missouri as a defensive assistant through the 1976 season, serving as defensive coordinator the final six years.

U.S. Football League (Philadelphia/Baltimore Stars, 1983–85), and the National Football League (Chicago Bears, 1986–92; Indianapolis Colts, 1994–95) followed. All told, he served as a defensive coordinator for 18 professional seasons. His teams produced non-losing records in 16 of those 18 campaigns.

Tobin's CFL defenses ranked second overall during his six-year tenure. His USFL schemes helped the Stars rank first defensively in 1983 and '84 and second in '85 while allowing the fewest points all three seasons. En route, the Stars, coached by Jim Mora, the future New Orleans Saints' head man, reached the USFL championship game each season, winning the title the final two times.

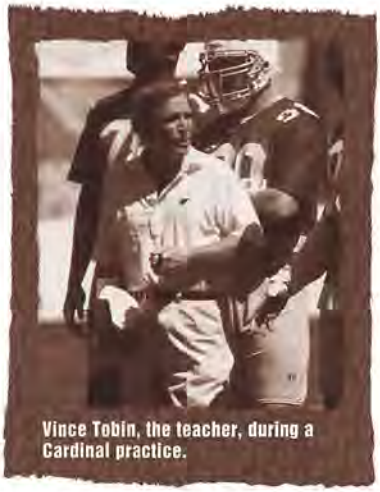
Da Bears

As Chicago's defensive coordinator, Tobin tutored a Bears' defense that set an NFL record for fewest points in a 16-game season (187, 1986). His '86 Chicago unit topped the league by allowing just 258 yards total offense per contest. The 1987 Bears ranked first in rushing defense (94.2) while holding six opponents under 10 points. The 1988 Bears surrendered the league's fewest points (215) and sported the best rushing defense (82.9). Tobin also earned victories over Tampa Bay and Washington in '88 as Chicago's interim head coach for the ailing Mike Ditka.

The Colts

Tobin worked his magic again in Indianapolis in 1994–95, overseeing a Colt defense that was a principal cog in an Indianapolis resurgence. The Colts finished 9–7 during the 1995 regular season before defeating San Diego (35–20) and Kansas City (10–7) in the first two rounds of post-season play. They narrowly missed a trip to Super Bowl XXX at Sun Devil Stadium in a 20–16 loss to Pittsburgh in the AFC Championship Game.

Tobin earned credit for rebuilding the Colts' defense. The 1993 unit he inherited ranked last (28th) in overall defense. Tobin's first Indianapolis group improved to 20th in 1994 and tied for seventh with Carolina in 1995 at 314.2 yards per game.



Vince Tobin, the teacher, during a Cardinal practice.

In the four seasons prior to Tobin's arrival, the Colts' defense finished 24th or lower against the run. In 1994, Tobin's first Indianapolis defense ranked 12th against the rush, then improved further to sixth in 1995 at 91.1 yards per game, the second lowest figure in team history. It also was just the third time in Colt history the opposition averaged less than 100 yards per game on the ground.

In scoring defense, the Colts improved to 14th (tie) and fifth (19.8), respectively, in 1994 and '95 after ranking 27th in 1993.

Over the last two seasons in Indianapolis, Tobin's defensive unit did not allow an individual to rush for 100 yards in 24 consecutive games (final 13 games of 1994, first 11 games of 1995).

His 1994 Colt defense also boasted the lowest red-zone touchdown percentage (40) in the NFL and did not allow a touchdown at home in the final three games of the season.

Personal

Born September 29, 1943, Tobin is married to the former Kathy Kautzman of Sidney, Montana. They have two children—son Ryan (Aug. 4, 1979), a senior at Brophy Prep in Phoenix, and daughter Shannon (Dec. 28, 1981), a sophomore at Xavier Prep in Phoenix.

DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR

Dave McGinnis

Twenty-four season coaching veteran Dave McGinnis begins his second year as the Cardinals' defensive coordinator.

He also is serving as a member of Cardinal Head Coach Vince Tobin's coaching staff for the third time.

McGinnis' first year at the Cardinals' defensive controls produced a unit that climbed from 26th overall in 1995 to 21st last year, allowed nine fewer touchdowns, and fought its way from last in the NFL against the run (140.6 yards per game) in '95 to 21st (116.4) in '96. In addition, Card opponents gained almost one full yard less per rushing attempt than in 1995 (4.5–3.6) as eight of 16 Card opponents failed to crack 100 yards rushing.

McGinnis spent 10 seasons (1986–95) as linebackers coach with the Chicago Bears, a span that included nine playoff games. In his decade with the Bears, the Chicago defense ranked among the top six teams in fewest yards allowed seven times as McGinnis was part of a defensive staff that led the NFL in fewest points allowed in 1986 (NFL-record low of 187) and 1988 and ranked first or second in total defense from 1986–88.

In addition, McGinnis coached Pro Bowl players at all three linebacker positions—outside linebackers Otis Wilson and Wilber Marshall, and middle linebacker Mike Singletary—who made the Pro Bowl every season under McGinnis' tutelage. The two players—Dante Jones and Joe Cain—who replaced Singletary following his retirement led the Bears in tackles the next three seasons.

Prior to joining the Bears, McGinnis spent 13 years coaching at the major-college level. His first assignment was as freshmen coach at his alma mater, Texas Christian, in 1973–74. In 1975, he moved to Missouri to coach the linebackers and secondary for Tobin, the Tigers' defensive coordinator. After spending the 1978–81 seasons at Indiana State as secondary coach, McGinnis returned to TCU in 1982 for one season as defensive backfield coach before joining Kansas State as defensive ends and linebackers coach from 1983–85.

McGinnis was a three-time letterman (1970–72) and two-year starter (1971–72) at defensive back at TCU where he earned academic all-Southwest Conference honors twice (1971–72). His five interceptions as a junior tied for the conference lead.

He holds a bachelor's degree in business administration from Texas Christian.

Born August 7, 1951 in Independence, Kansas, McGinnis attended Snyder (Tex.) High School. He resides in Phoenix with his wife, Kim.

OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR

Dick Jamieson

Dick Jamieson, a former St. Louis Cardinal assistant coach (1980–85) who spent the past two seasons as running backs coach for the Philadelphia Eagles, returns to the Cards as offensive coordinator.

Jamieson saw his first tour of duty with the Cardinals on Head Coach Jim Hanifan's staff in 1980 as running backs coach, then was elevated to offensive coordinator in 1985. He was instrumental in the development of three of the most productive offensive players in the NFL at the time—running back Ottis Anderson, wide receiver Roy Green, and quarterback Neil Lomax—as the team qualified for the playoffs in 1982 and narrowly missed post-season play in 1981 (7–9), '83 (8–7–1), and '84 (9–7).

In 1995, the Eagles' backfield duo of Ricky Watters and Charlie Garner combined for 1,861 rushing yards (Watters–1,273, Garner–588), making them the league's second most productive backfield duo behind Dallas' Emmitt Smith (1,773 yards) and Sherman Williams (205 yards). Last year, the pair combined for 1,757 yards (Watters–1,411, Garner–346) to rank third in the league and first in the NFC. Watters earned Pro Bowl honors both seasons.

A native of Peoria, Ill., Jamieson was a standout quarterback and baseball player at Bradley University from 1955–58. He led the nation's small colleges in total offense as a senior but signed a baseball contract with the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1958. After two seasons with the Pirates, he returned to football as a back-up to Hall of Fame quarterback John Unitas with the Baltimore Colts in 1959 before spending two seasons (1960–61) in the AFL with the New York Titans.

A back injury forced him to leave football in 1962, but after three seasons as an assistant at Bradley, he made a comeback as a player with the Houston Oilers in 1965 before retiring in 1966.

Jamieson began the second installment of his coaching career at Peoria (Ill.) Central High School in 1966 where he compiled a record of 40–19–1 during six years.

Jamieson (offensive coordinator) first crossed coaching paths with Vince Tobin (defensive coordinator) on the same staff at Missouri from 1972–77.

Jamieson spent 1978–79 in Terre Haute, Indiana as head coach at Indiana State. The Sycamores posted an 11–11 record during his two years in southern Indiana.

After six seasons (1980–85) with the Cardinals, Jamieson spent the next two campaigns as offensive coordinator/running backs coach with the Houston Oilers (1986–87), then returned to the college ranks as assistant head coach and offensive coordinator at Northwestern (1990–91) and as running backs coach at Rutgers (1992–94) prior to his two seasons in Philadelphia.

Jamieson has three children—Judi, Jeff, and Tim, the head baseball coach at the University of Missouri. His brother, Bob Jamieson, is a correspondent for ABC-TV News.

Jamieson and his wife, Linda, reside in Phoenix.

TIGHT ENDS/QUALITY CONTROL

Geep Chryst

George Patrick "Geep" Chryst embarks upon his second season with the Cardinals as tight ends and quality control coach after five seasons with the Chicago Bears (1991–95) as director of research/quality control.

Chryst began his coaching career at the University of Wisconsin-Platteville (1987), joined the staff at Wisconsin for one season (1988), then moved to Wyoming to coach the offensive line (1989) and quarterbacks (1990).

In 1991, he was the wide receivers/running backs coach for the Orlando Thunder of the World League before beginning his first season with the Bears. In the spring of 1992, however, he took a 15-day hiatus from Chicago to long snap in three playoff games for short-handed Orlando after being out of uniform for eight years. He used his $7,000 World League playoff money to buy his wife, Shelley, an engagement ring.

His tutoring of Arizona tight ends Pat Carter and rookie Johnny McWilliams paid off handsomely in 1996. Carter's 26 receptions for 329 yards marked the best production by a Cardinal tight end since Rob Awalt's 33 receptions for 360 yards in 1989. McWilliams authored the best single-game effort by a rookie tight end in the NFL last year with five pass receptions for 54 yards and a touchdown at Washington, November 10.

A 1984 Princeton graduate with a bachelor's degree in history, Chryst also holds a master's degree in educational administration from Wisconsin. A three-year starter at linebacker as a Princeton undergraduate, Chryst also played baseball for two years.

He was born into an athletic family on June 25, 1962 in Madison, Wisconsin. His father, George, was the successful head football coach at the University of Wisconsin-Platteville from 1980–92. He was instrumental in the formation of the Wisconsin "Cheese League," the annual influx of NFL training camps to Wisconsin colleges, when he enticed the Chicago Bears to begin training at the Platteville campus in 1984. In 1980, George Chryst's first season as head coach, Platteville staged the greatest comeback in NCAA history, overcoming a 33–0 deficit to defeat Wisconsin-Eau Claire 52–43 for the Wisconsin State University Conference championship.

Brother Paul currently is the offensive coordinator at Oregon State. Brother Rick is assistant commissioner of the Atlantic Coast Conference. Sisters Cathy and Dolly were track stars in college; the former was an AAU sprint champion, the latter competed at the University of Wisconsin.

Chryst's unique nickname is a truncation of the initials adorning his first Christmas stocking—"G.P." Chryst.

Chryst's wife Shelley was a scholarship volleyball player at Wyoming and played professionally in the two-player sand version (Women's Professional Volleyball Association) in 1994. She also was assistant volleyball coach at Northwestern (1994) and Wisconsin-Milwaukee (1995).

They are the parents of son Keller (Nov. 17, 1995). ●

Al Everest

Cardinals' special teams coach Alan "Al" Everest took a circuitous route to his first coaching position in the National Football League.

The product of a football family, Everest arrived in Arizona a year ago with 24 years of coaching experience on various levels and venues—the Canadian Football League (CFL), Italian Professional Football League, Arena Football League (AFL), and the Pro Spring Football League (PSFL)—as well as domestic and foreign experience at the college and high school levels.

Arizona's special teams improved markedly as the 1996 season progressed. Kicker Kevin Butler, signed at mid-season, set a franchise single-season field-goal accuracy record of 82.4 percent (14–17), bettering Jim Bakken's 1975 mark of 79.2 percent (19–24). Punter Jeff Feagles matched his 43.8-yard average that sent him to the Pro Bowl in 1995, and rookie Leeland McElroy's 54 kickoff returns for 1,148 yards rank second in Cardinal history to Stump Mitchell's 55 returns for 1,292 yards in 1981.

Everest served as special-teams coordinator for Head Coach Jack Pardee of the CFL Birmingham Barracudas in 1995. His special-teams units ranked among league leaders and were instrumental in the club's 10–8 record and a berth in the CFL playoffs in their inaugural season.

During four years (1988–90, 1993) at the professional level in Italy, Everest helped lead the Legnano Frogs to two national championships in three Italian title-game appearances and a combined record of 57–9 as the defensive coordinator. The Frogs won the European championship in 1989. Everest spent a fifth season in Italy as head coach of the Pesaro Angels in 1991.

Everest began his coaching career in 1972 at his alma mater, Southern Methodist, as a graduate assistant under defensive coordinator Bum Phillips. After two seasons as a graduate assistant at North Texas (1973–74) and as defensive backs coach at Cameron (Okla.) University (1974–75), he spent the next five years as the athletic director at the American School Foundation in Mexico City where he developed the largest and most successful athletic program in the world for an accredited institution outside the United States. He served as head football coach, posting a 46–7 composite record and winning one national championship.

Seven seasons (1981–87) as head baseball coach at U.S. International, where he led the school to its first winning season at the Division I level, and his tour in the Italian Football League preceded his involvement in the Pro Spring Football League, the first (1991) as a league talent scout under Walt Michaels, the second (1992) as secondary coach for Arkansas Miners Head Coach Darryl Rogers, the former head coach at Arizona State University.

When the PSFL folded in 1992, Everest served as offensive coordinator on Head Coach Dick Nolan's staff with the San Antonio Force of the AFL.

Everest spent the next two seasons (1993–94) at Colony High School in Lewisville, Texas, helping lead the school to its first undefeated season and playoff appearance.

Everest's father, Andy, coached football for over 40 years, including three years with his son in Italy. In addition to American collegiate stops at Stanford, Utah, California-Santa Barbara, Southern Methodist, and North Texas, he also served the latter as athletic director for three years and as an assistant on Head Coach Phillips' staff with the New Orleans Saints. The senior Everest also recruited future Cardinal Hall of Fame defensive back Larry Wilson to Utah.

Everest's two brothers—Tom (Cal Poly) and Andy (North Texas)—also played college football.

Born August 22, 1950 in El Paso, Texas, Everest attended San Marcos High School. He was a two-year starter at free safety for Head Coach Hayden Fry at Southern Methodist in 1970–71.

Everest holds a doctorate of education (U.S. International), a master's degree (North Texas), and a bachelor's degree (Southern Methodist).

He and his wife, Melissa "Lee," who was raised in Phoenix, have two daughters, Michelle Katherine (Dec. 10, 1988), who was born in Legnano, Italy, and Kaycee Fae (April 11, 1996), who was born in Phoenix.

DEFENSIVE LINE

Joe Greene

Charles Edward Greene, known as "Mean Joe" Greene to a generation of football fans and a member of the NFL's all-time team named in 1994 to commemorate the league's 75th anniversary, is the Arizona Cardinals' second-year defensive line coach.

Greene is a 10-season NFL coaching veteran. He tutored the Miami Dolphins' defensive line for four seasons (1992–95) following five campaigns (1987–91) as the Pittsburgh Steelers' defensive line coach. During Greene's tenure on the Pittsburgh coaching staff, the Steelers were the AFC's top-rated team in giveaway-takeaway ratio. In addition, Pittsburgh finished among the top five AFC teams in run defense four of Greene's five seasons while also leading the NFL in total defense and pass defense in 1990.

In Miami in 1994, the Dolphins set a club record by allowing only 89.4 yards per game rushing to rank second in the AFC and fourth in the NFL.

Two of Green's Cardinal students—defensive tackle Eric Swann and defensive end Simeon Rice—earned numerous post-season accolades last year as Arizona improved from 26th to 21st in total defense from 1995, and from last to 21st against the run. Swann earned his second Pro Bowl berth and assorted all-star honors. Rice was the NFL's runaway defensive rookie-of-the-year, tied a league rookie record for quarterback sacks with 12.5 (Leslie O'Neil, San Diego, 1985), and was voted a Pro Bowl alternate.

Greene, one of the greatest defensive tackles in the history of the National Football League, was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1987 to cap his legendary 13-year playing career (1969–81). He was considered the heart of Pittsburgh's "Steel Curtain" defense that led the Steelers to four Super Bowl championships. A perennial all-pro tackle for the Steelers who recorded 66 quarterback sacks during his career, Greene was selected to 10 Pro Bowls, including eight consecutively from 1970–77, and was named to the Pro Football Hall of Fame's "Team of the 1970s."

In addition to his numerous awards for accomplishments on the playing field, Greene won the prestigious Clio Award for his Coca-Cola commercial in 1980 which led to numerous television and film appearances. During his NFL playing career, Mauck started 155 consecutive games and played 156 consecutive contests at center. A 13th-round draft choice of the Baltimore Colts in 1969, he began his professional career humbly as an offensive lineman for the Harrisburg (Pa.) Since that time, he has logged seven seasons as a college assistant, 18 as a professional assistant (13 in the NFL), six as a head coach in the Canadian Football League, and one as an advance scout in pro personnel for the Philadelphia Eagles.

Arizona's starting wide receivers enjoyed career-best seasons under Rapp's guidance last year. Rob Moore's 1,016 yards and 17.5-yard average per catch (58 receptions) were his career highs, the latter good for second in the NFC behind Minnesota's Jake Reed (18.3).

In his second NFL season, Frank Sanders' personal-best 69 catches were the most in club history by a second-year player and ranked 11th all-time in team annals.

Rapp's pupils were an integral component of the Cardinal offense that climbed from 24th in 1995 to 12th in 1996 and led the NFL with 214 first downs passing.

Rapp earned his first NFL assignment as running backs/tight ends coach with Houston in 1983, followed by similar positions with the L.A. Rams (1984), Tampa Bay Buccaneers (1985–86), and Detroit Lions (1987–88). After four seasons (1989–92) as wide receivers coach for the Chicago Bears' staff that included defensive coordinator Tobin, Rapp took a two-year hiatus from pro football before he was named a pro personnel scout for the Eagles in 1995.

After a year out of football, Rapp spent 1994 in the Division A German Football League as head coach of the Erding Bulls, located outside Munich. After assuming the coaching reins of the summer league squad following four early-season losses, he guided the Bulls to the playoffs.

Rapp entered the coaching fraternity in 1965 at Arizona as an offensive line assistant under Head Coach Jim LaRue, then handled the passing game as an assistant at Missouri from 1967–71 when his path first crossed with Tobin. Following five seasons (1972–76) as the offensive coordinator of the CFL's Edmonton Eskimos, he was named head coach of the British Columbia Lions in 1977, compiling a 55–42–4 record in six seasons that included two conference championships.

Rapp played collegiate football at Southwest Missouri State as a guard and linebacker. He holds a bachelor's degree in physical education and guidance and counseling from Southwest Missouri State and two master's degrees from Arkansas—one in physical education, the other in guidance and counseling.

Owner of radio station KIRL (AM 1460) in St. Charles, Mo., Roland spent four years in private business (1979–82) before Chicago Bear Head Coach Mike Ditka summoned him to tutor Payton and Anderson from 1983–92 when the Bears compiled a 10-year record of 103–56, a winning percentage of .648, and won 10 or more games seven times. From 1986–92, Roland and Tobin were assistants on Ditka's staff.

A native of Corpus Christi, Texas, Roland was a teammate of Tobin as a two-way (running back and cornerback) starter at Missouri, then achieved NFL offensive rookie-of-the-year honors in 1966.

Both the Cardinals (fourth round) and the N.Y. Jets (first round) selected Roland as a "future" choice in the 1965 drafts, respectively.

HEAD TRAINER

John Omohundro

John Omohundro begins his 31st season with the Cardinals and his 27th campaign as the team's head trainer.

Omohundro and his assistants, Jim Shearer and Jeff Herndon, enjoyed a memorable 1993 season. They were named the National Football League's athletic training staff-of-the-year by the Professional Football Athletic Trainers Society (PFATS) and recognized for that achievement at the annual Ed Block Courage Awards Dinner.

During high school, Omohundro's career in athletics and life-long love affair with baseball began wholesomely as the winner of a contest to become bat boy for the Pacific Coast League Salt Lake City Bees in his hometown. Omohundro soon became a jack-of-all-trades around the Bees' clubhouse in the late 1950s and early '60s with future major leaguers like Gene Freese, Dick Hall, and Dick Stuart, performing as a clubhouse assistant, traveling secretary, and assistant trainer for future San Francisco Giants head trainer Al Wylder.

Omohundro began his undergraduate studies while serving as head trainer at the College of Southern Utah from 1961–62. He spent 1962–65 in Laramie, Wyoming at the University of Wyoming, serving as a student athletic trainer during his undergraduate studies. After earning his bachelor's degree in physical education/allied health sciences in 1965, Omohundro remained as a graduate assistant trainer.

He also served six years as a sergeant in the U.S. Army Reserve as a senior medical specialist, including one stint on active duty from January-June, 1967 before beginning his long association with the Cardinals in time for the 1967 football season.

He served as the team's assistant trainer for four seasons (1967–70) before his promotion to head trainer in 1971.

Omohundro has taken an active role in his professional associations throughout his career. He served PFATS as secretary/treasurer from 1976–82, followed by a two-year term as the National Football Conference representative. He also is the former chairman of the National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA) Ethics Committee. In 1993, NATA named Omohundro recipient of its 25-year distinguished service award. Omohundro also is a former chairman of the Missouri State Athletic Trainer Advisory Committee.

Omohundro also is a member of the Missouri Sports Hall of Fame, and a member of the International Narcotics Officer's Association.

A graduate of the University of Wyoming with a bachelor's degree in physical education, Shearer worked in Gillette, Wyoming as the city's assistant recreation director and head trainer at Gillette High School before returning to Wyoming as a graduate assistant trainer in 1973–74. He joined the Cardinals in 1974.

Giants (Sept. 11) with 38-yard net mark as the Giants' dangerous return specialist Dave Meggett collected just 18 yards on three combined returns and one fair catch ... dropped three of five kicks inside the 20-yard line at Dallas (Oct. 9), including boots of 46 and 48 yards ... impressed with 46.3-yard average at R.F.K. 1996 Review

Quarterback Kent Graham.

1996 Review

Improvement, lots of improvement! Improbability, lots of improbability, too.

That is the condensed version of the 1996 Arizona Cardinals in their first season under new Head Coach Vince Tobin. Perhaps no team in the league experienced the extremes of the '96 Cardinals. There were few dull moments!

Victories in four of the final seven games stamped the new era with credibility.

So did an offense that improved from 24th (304.1 yards per game) to 12th (324.4) in the league, ranked sixth in passing (230.5), and allowed 19 fewer quarterback sacks.

Ditto a defense that yielded nine fewer touchdowns while clawing from 26th (356.5) to 21st (335.1) overall and from last (422 points) to 26th (397) in scoring defense.

The Cards' best November record (3–1) since 1987 also did not go unnoticed.

However, the most noticeable improvement came in the players' acceptance of the Tobin approach.

"We made progress during the course of the year," Tobin feels. "We were a much better football team at the end than we were at the beginning. Our players played hard and fought hard. We're going in the right direction. Good things are ahead for the fans as well as the football team."

Four of the team's seven victories were accomplished in pulsating fashion, two implausibly! A fifth was the handiwork of an incredible effort from an unlikely source.

Incredible Effort/Unlikely Source (September 22)

Cardinals 28, Saints 14 (A)—Running back LeShon Johnson breaks open a close game with fourth-quarter touchdown bursts of 56 and 70 yards on consecutive carries to pace the Cardinals' first victory under Tobin. The latter was the longest touchdown run by a Cardinal since Ottis Anderson rambled 76 yards vs. Dallas on September 2, 1979. The touchdowns were the first of Johnson's NFL career.

Johnson's 214-yard rushing total sets a team single-game record, breaking John David Crow's mark of 203 yards vs. Pittsburgh on December 18, 1960. They are the only two 200-yard efforts in franchise history.

Arizona's 267 team yards rushing was its best effort since 1980.

Pulsation #1 (September 29)

Cardinals 31, Rams 28-OT (H)—The Cardinals score the game's final 17 points on their last three possessions to register a dramatic 31–28 comeback victory in overtime against the visiting St. Louis Rams to post Arizona's first two-victory September since 1991. It also is the first time in 66 games the Cards overcome a fourth-quarter deficit of 14 points or greater.

Johnson proves to be the difference for the second consecutive week, exploding for 66 yards two plays into overtime to set the table for kicker Greg Davis' game-winning 24-yard field goal two plays later. It was the longest non-scoring run by a Cardinal since 1979 (Ottis Anderson, 75 yards).

Quarterback Kent Graham also shines with 37-for-58 passing for 366 yards and four touchdowns, all personal bests. In the process, he equals two Cardinal single-game records—37 completions (Neil Lomax, 1984) and 14 consecutive completions (Steve Beuerlein, 1994).

Graham also becomes the 11th Cardinal to throw four or more touchdown passes in one game, joining a club that includes Paul Christman, Jim Hardy, Jim Hart, Gary Hogeboom, Charley Johnson, Dave Krieg, Neil Lomax, Ray Mallouf, Lamar McHan, and John Roach.

Graham's heroics include a game-tying five-yard touchdown pass to wide receiver Frank Sanders with 11 seconds remaining.

Arizona's 23 first downs passing set a club record.

Pulsation #2/Implausibility #1 (November 10)

Cardinals 37, Redskins 34-OT (A)—Arizona rides the record-setting passing of quarterback Boomer Esiason to shock NFC East Division-leading Washington in overtime in the Cardinals' final appearance at R.F.K. Stadium.

Esiason's personal best 522 passing yards are the third most prolific total in NFL history, trailing only Norm Van Brocklin (554 in 1951) and Warren Moon (527 in 1990) while also setting Cardinal and Redskin opponent single-game records.

Arizona's defense comes to the rescue, too, holding Washington pointless following all five Cardinal turnovers.

New Arizona kicker Kevin Butler, appearing in his first game as a Cardinal after signing five days earlier, seals the frenetic victory with his third field goal, a 32-yarder, after he and Redskin kicker Scott Blanton traded overtime misses.

The Cardinals score three fourth-quarter touchdowns to send the contest into overtime.

Arizona's 615 total yards are the first 600-yard outing in franchise history and the highest total in the NFL in six years (676 by Washington vs. Detroit, November 4, 1990).

Pulsation #3/Implausibility #2 (November 24)

Cardinals 36, Eagles 30 (H)—The Cardinals earn their third consecutive victory by scoring touchdowns on their last three possessions to cap their second improbable ending in a three-week span.

Arizona appears in control at 29–20 with only 2:45 to play, but Philadelphia's Derrick Witherspoon brings the Eagles into contention with a 95-yard kickoff return for a touchdown. The Eagles recover their onsides kickoff, and nine plays later, Gary Anderson boots his third field goal to give Philadelphia a stunning 30–29 lead with 52 seconds remaining.

Fullback Larry Centers earned his second consecutive Pro Bowl trip with 99 receptions for 766 yards and 116 rushes for 425 additional yards.

Enter Esiason. Following Leeland McElroy's 28-yard kickoff return, the Cards stand 66 yards from pay dirt with no timeouts. Esiason calmly marches Arizona downfield with completions of 18, 12, and 12 yards before hitting wide receiver Marcus Dowdell with a 24-yard touchdown strike.

Pulsation #4 (December 15)

Cardinals 27, Redskins 26 (H)—The Cardinals use a last-play field goal to better Washington for the second time in 1996, their seventh victory in the past eight meetings against the Redskins. Just five weeks after ending the 37–34 overtime affair with a 32-yard field goal at the nation's capital in his Arizona debut, Cardinal kicker Kevin Butler encores with his 15th career game-winning field goal, a 28-yarder with no time remaining.

However, as anticipated in any opening act, there also were "go-figure" elements to Tobin's first season in Arizona.

Go Figure #1—The 0–8 New York Jets secure the only victory of their 1–15 season at the Cardinals' expense, a 31–21 verdict at Sun Devil Stadium on October 27. New York rides running back Adrian Murrell's team-record 199-yard rushing effort.

Go Figure #2—During Arizona's three-game November winning streak when it averages 470 total net yards per game, the Cardinals score 37, 31, and 36 points, their first back-to-back-to-back 30-point efforts in a span of 132 games (1988).

Yet despite the overall offensive improvement and midseason explosiveness (372 yards per game during outings four-12), Arizona scores only two touchdowns in its first three games, and suffers its first shutout since September 18, 1994 in the season's third assignment September 15 at New England against the Super Bowl-bound Patriots, a span of 32 outings. The Cardinals also are touchdownless in both meetings against Dallas—October 13 away (178 total net yards) and December 8 at home (347 total net yards)—and narrowly avoid another shutout at the Meadowlands November 3 with a late touchdown against the Giants.

Go Figure #3—Arizona tallies its first opening-drive touchdown in 42 games against the Redskins at Sun Devil Stadium on December 15.

Offense

Remarkably, the Cardinal offense, maligned just one year earlier, produced the top single-game rushing (Johnson, 214 yards at New Orleans), passing (Esiason, 522 yards at Washington), and receiving (Larry Centers, 13 receptions vs. St. Louis) efforts in the NFC in 1996.

The Cardinal offense was a double-edged sword sharpened with new faces. While the unit led the NFL in first downs passing (214), it ranked 29th in first downs rushing (70).

Two free agents—Esiason and Graham—split playing time at quarterback. Each started eight games. Each had a hand in the season's memorable moments. Their statistics were remarkably similar.

Kent Graham emerged as the Cardinals' starting quarterback in 1996.

Two runners—rookie draftee (second round) McElroy and Johnson—shared the running-back slot in tandem with Pro Bowl fullback Centers.

Two other new arrivals—free agent Mike Devlin and rookie draftee (fourth round) Aaron Graham, who anchored Nebraska's two national championship offensive lines in 1994–95, shared center due to Devlin's midseason knee injury.

Graham also finished the season with two starts at the injury-depleted left-guard position. In all, four different Cardinals—Duval Love, Rob Selby, rookie James Dexter, and A. Graham—started at left guard. The first three were sidelined with season-ending knee injuries.

Two incumbents—Sanders and Rob Moore—returned as the starting wide receivers, with capable support from Marcus Dowdell and Anthony Edwards. Dowdell worked his way into the spotlight with two memorable touchdown receptions, a 64-yarder just before halftime at Washington, and the 24-yard game-winner vs. Philadelphia with 14 seconds to play.

Add free agent tight end Pat Carter to the group of stalwarts, too.

In all, eight of the contributing offensive regulars were new players brought to Arizona by Tobin.

Esiason, the most prolific left-handed quarterback in NFL history, emerged from training camp as the starter. After a near-miss loss in the opener at Indianapolis, the Cardinals dropped one-sided decisions to Miami and at New England.

Tobin felt change was in order. He began at quarterback, inserting K. Graham, who responded by engineering Tobin's first victory, a 28–14 verdict at New Orleans in the season's fourth outing.

It was the first of six consecutive starts for K. Graham, a streak that was snapped by a knee injury against the Giants at the Meadowlands on November 3.

Esiason climbed back into the saddle. For three weeks, he was the talk of the NFL, completing 77 of 129 passes (.597) for 1,149 yards and eight touchdowns with five interceptions.

More importantly, he led Arizona to back-to-back-to-back victories at Washington and vs. the Giants and Eagles at Sun Devil Stadium. His 1,149 yards passing were the third highest passing yardage total in three consecutive victories in NFL history, trailing only Joe Montana (1,192 in 1990) and Dan Fouts (1,177 in 1982), and the third best overall total in three straight games in the 1990s.

In the fourth quarters (and one overtime) of the three-game winning streak, Esiason was 38-for-54 (.704) for 555 yards with five touchdowns and two interceptions. His season-long fourth quarter passer rating of 88.3 ranked him third in the conference (133 attempts, 77 completions, 971 yards, 8 touchdowns, 4 interceptions).

For his feats, Esiason was named the NFC player-of-the-month for November following two player-of-the-week awards in a three-week span.

Cardinal losses in the next two outings at Minnesota and vs. Dallas prompted Tobin to turn back to the healthy K. Graham for the final two games, a victory at home vs. Washington and a loss at Philadelphia in the finale.

Like Esiason, K. Graham earned player-of-the-week accolades for his performance in the comeback overtime victory over St. Louis that handed Tobin his first home-field success. K. Graham's eight starts were significant because since leading Wheaton North High School to the Illinois state championship in 1986, he had started only 15 games prior to becoming a Cardinal—1 at Notre Dame (1987), 10 at Ohio State (1991), and 4 as a New York Giant (1992–94).

K. Graham led the NFC and ranked third in the league in third-down passing (96.4 rating) and enjoyed one stretch of 127 pass attempts without interception, a run the Cowboys ended with a pickoff on K. Graham's final throw of the October 13 meeting at Dallas.

McElroy, although winning the starting nod for the first three games of his rookie season, received most of his playing time in the latter part of the season.Nearly one-half of his rushing attempts (41 of 89) and one-third of his rushing yardage (204 of 305) came in the final three games.

Centers earned his second consecutive Pro Bowl nod with 99 receptions for 766 yards and 116 rushes for 425 yards. Coupled with his team-record 101-reception total in 1995, Centers has posted the two top receiving seasons by any Cardinal and every running back in NFL history in successive campaigns.

He completed the most prolific 20-game stretch of pass receiving by a running back in league history on September 29 vs. the Rams when his career-best 13 catches, the 1996 NFC high, raised his 20-game total to 131 receptions.

denced by 28 pass receptions on third down last year, second in the NFC behind Detroit Lion wide receiver Brett Perriman (29 receptions).

Additionally, Centers' 277 receptions over the past three seasons (77, 101, 99) are the best three-year total in Cardinal history, bettering wide receiver J.T. Smith's mark of 254 grabs from 1986–88 (80, 83, 91).

Sanders' personal-best 69 receptions, the most in history by a second-year Cardinal, almost cracked the team's all-time single-season top 10, settling for the 11th spot. Moore's 1,016 reception yards and 17.5-yard average per catch were his career highs.

Carter returned the tight end to the Arizona passing game, catching 26 tosses for 329 yards, the best effort by a Cardinal tight end since Rob Awalt's 33 receptions for 360 yards in 1989.

Defense

In addition to climbing five notches in NFL overall rankings and allowing fewer touchdowns, the Card defenders showed significant improvement against the rush. After finishing last in the NFL (140.6) a year earlier, Arizona fought its way to 21st (116.4) against ground attacks. Stated more simply, Cardinal opponents gained almost one full yard less per rushing attempt than in 1995 (4.5–3.6). Eight of 16 Card opponents failed to crack 100 yards rushing.

The Cardinals also allowed 21.4 fewer yards per game.

Besides whitewashing Washington following all five Cardinal turnovers in the wild-and-woolly affair at the nation's capital on November 10, the Arizona defense also authored other outings of note. In the November 17 rematch with the Giants, New York was able to score just three field goals on its three longest drives—11 (plays)-57 (yards), 16–88, and 16–49.

The unit also scored twice, once on a fumble recovery by defensive tackle Eric Swann and returned by outside linebacker Jamir Miller vs. Washington on December 15, the second a 65-yard interception return by cornerback Aeneas Williams in the final game at Philadelphia on December 22.

In the September 29 overtime home-field victory over St. Louis, the Rams' line of scrimmage never was closer to the Arizona goal line than the 34-yard line. October 13 at Dallas, the defending Super Bowl champion Cowboys were forced to punt on their first four possessions, held nearly scoreless in the first half (field goal with five seconds remaining), and clung to a 10–3 lead midway through the fourth quarter.

The arrival of rookie end Simeon Rice, a head-turning season from middle linebacker Eric Hill, and additional Pro Bowl nods for Williams and Swann highlighted the Cardinals' 1996 season on defense.

Rice, the club's first-round draft choice (third overall) in 1996, fulfilled all expectations by equalling the NFL rookie record of Simeon Rice's 12.5 quarterback sacks equalled the NFL rookie record.

12.5 sacks, set by San Diego's Leslie O'Neal in 1985. The total also led the Cardinals and shattered Ken Harvey's 1988 team rookie record of six. Rice led all NFL rookies in sacks, ranked fourth overall in the NFC, and logged sacks in four consecutive early-season outings and five successive late-season assignments.

He was named NFL defensive rookie-of-the-year by the Associated Press and the Professional Football Writers Association (PFWA)/ Pro Football Weekly.

Hill posted monster numbers, narrowly missing the lofty 100-solo tackle, 200-combined tackle plateaus with 97 solos and 196 combined stops, both career highs. As the team's runaway tackle leader, Hill registered double digit combined tackle totals 10 times. In the season finale at Philadelphia, he recorded 14 solo tackles with seven assists for 21 combined tackles, both team bests for 1996 and the Cards' top effort since safety Lorenzo Lynch posted the same numbers in overtime vs. Chicago on November 27, 1994, a span of 37 games.

Rice and Hill both were named Pro Bowl alternates for their efforts.

Williams and Swann skated back to the Pro Bowl, Williams for the third consecutive time, all as a starter, and Swann for the second successive time.

Williams' six pass interceptions led the Cardinals for the fourth time. He returned his final one 65 yards for a fourth-quarter touchdown at Philadelphia in the December 22 season finale. Williams now boasts four career interceptions for touchdowns, inching close to Hall of Fame safety Larry Wilson's team record of five.

On October 27 vs. the Jets, Williams pilfered two Jet passes, his fourth career double interception effort. He also led Arizona with 20 deflected passes.

Swann led the team's interior linemen with 61 solo tackles and 96 combined stops.

In his 11th pro season, outside linebacker Seth Joyner achieved a unique distinction as the only Cardinal to register a mark in each of nine statistical categories on defense—tackles (71), assists (53), quarterback sacks (5), quarterback pressures (6), tackles for loss (10), passes defensed (4), interceptions (1), fumbles forced (3), and recovered (1).

Special Teams

The Cardinals finished in the middle of the NFL pack on punts and kickoffs—11th in kickoff-return coverage, 19th in punt-return coverage, 22nd in kickoff returns, and 23rd in punt returns.

The midseason release of veteran place kicker Davis in favor of ex-Chicago Bear Butler was the highest profile aspect of Arizona's special teams. Butler responded, setting a franchise single-season field-goal record of 82.4 percent (14–17), bettering Jim Bakken's 1975 mark of 79.2 percent (19–24). Included in his 14 field goals were the 14th and 15th game-winners of his career.

Butler now ranks fifth among active kickers in scoring (1,175 points) and field goals (257). The latter three-pointer also was his 12th field goal in the final minute of a game or overtime.

Punter Jeff Feagles matched his 43.8-yard average that sent him to the Pro Bowl a year earlier. He also was the last NFL punter charged with a touchback (October 20 in the seventh game vs. Tampa Bay). There were only six touchbacks against his ledger at season's end.

The Phoenix native also raised his career total of punts inside the opponent 20-yard line to 219 with 23.

McElroy excelled in his college specialty—kickoff returns. His 54 kickoff returns for 1,148 yards rank second in Cardinal single-season annals to Stump Mitchell's 55-returns, 1,292-yard 1981 season.

McElroy's most memorable kickoff return was a 92-yarder against the Jets at Sun Devil Stadium on October 27.

Dowdell's 35-yard punt return vs. the Giants on November 3 was the team's longest since September 12, 1993.

Rookie middle linebacker Ronald McKinnon, a free agent, led with 22 special-teams tackles. ●

September 1, 1996 • RCA Dome (48,133)

Arizona was turnover-free and won most of the of the statistical battle in Vince Tobin's first regular-season game as the Cardinals' head coach.

The Cardinals scored first on two field goals. Indianapolis responded with 10 points on its final two first-half possessions. After a scoreless third quarter, the Colts' second field goal and a 35-yard touchdown pass, the latter with 1:54 to play, gave them breathing room. The Cards stormed back, driving 81 yards in four plays and 53 seconds, culminated by quarterback Boomer Esiason's two-yard touchdown sweep. The Cards recovered their ensuing onsides kick but were unable to score after reaching the Colts' 22-yard line.

Esiason was impressive in his Arizona debut, completing 25 of 38 passes for 237 yards without interception. Fullback Larry Centers made 11 receptions for 108 yards.

Dolphins 38, Cardinals 10

September 8, 1996 • Sun Devil Stadium (55,444)

Touchdowns climaxed three of Miami's first four possessions to propel the Dolphins to an insurmountable 21–0 second-quarter lead in their first visit to Arizona. Miami dominated the battle for field position. Four of its 13 possessions began in Cardinal territory—blocked punt, 11-yard shanked punt, fumble recovery, and pass interception. Three resulted in touchdowns. The Dolphins' 44-yard line was the average starting point of their 13 possessions.

After the Cardinals cut the deficit to 24–10 midway through the third quarter, the Dolphins extinguished Arizona comeback hopes with eight-play touchdown drives on their next two possessions.

The Cardinals' 27-yard team rushing total was their lowest since a 22-yard game vs. Denver on December 16, 1989, a span of 100 games.

Patriots 31, Cardinals 0

September 15, 1996 • Foxboro Stadium (59,118)

The Cardinals suffered their second one-sided defeat in as many outings and their first shutout in 32 games (32–0 at Cleveland, Sept. 18, 1994) in their first trip to New England since 1984.

The Patriots tallied three first-half touchdowns to take command quickly at 20–0. The New England-dominated statistics were as lopsided as the final score: First downs, 26–9; total yards, 384–170; rushing yards, 163–46; offensive plays, 82–48; time of possession, 39:21–20:39; and, turnovers, 4–0. Ten of Arizona's 13 possessions ended in three plays or less. Its first seven possessions produced only one first down. The Cardinals didn't reach Patriot territory until Arizona's 12th (or next to last) possession.

Pats' running back Curtis Martin tallied three touchdowns—receptions of 13 and seven yards from quarterback Drew Bledsoe, and a one-yard run. Martin posted 92 yards rushing and 33 yards receiving. Bledsoe complemented Martin with 21–for-35 marksmanship for 221 yards and three touchdowns without interception.

For the second consecutive week, starting Cardinal quarterback Boomer Esiason yielded to Kent Graham in the second half. The pair combined for a sub-par 13-for-31 accuracy for 133 yards and three interceptions.

Cardinals 28, Saints 14

September 22, 1996 • Superdome (34,316)

Vince Tobin earned his first victory at the Cardinals' helm thanks to reserve running back LeShon Johnson's 214-yard franchise-record rushing explosion. Johnson's effort was the best rushing total by a Cardinal since the only other 200-yard day in franchise history, John David Crow's 203 yards vs. Pittsburgh on Dec. 18, 1960, a span of 542 games.

Quarterback Kent Graham, making his first start as a Cardinal and his fifth in the NFL, guided an Arizona offense that amassed 432 total yards, including 267 on the ground, the team's highest rushing total since setting the club record of 330 yards at New Orleans on Oct. 5, 1980.

The Cardinals broke open the tight contest in the second half by scoring three touchdowns in the span of eight plays from scrimmage. After Graham and wide receiver Rob Moore collaborated on a 20-yard touchdown pass and a two-point conversion completion, Johnson padded Arizona's 14–7 lead with 56- and 70-yard fourth-quarter touchdown bursts, the longest touchdown runs on consecutive carries in NFL history. The latter was the Cards' longest scoring jaunt since Ottis Anderson rambled 76 yards vs. Dallas on Sept. 2, 1979. The touchdowns were the first of Johnson's career.

Cardinals 31, Rams 28 (OT)

September 29, 1996 • Sun Devil Stadium (33,116)

The Cardinals scored the game's final 17 points on their last three possessions to post a dramatic 31–28 comeback victory and register their first two-victory September since 1991. It also was the first time in 66 games the Cards overcame a fourth-quarter deficit of 14 points or greater.

The Cards were victimized by four long Ram scoring plays (66-yard punt return and 34-, 46-, and 49-yard passes). The Cards marched to two clock-eating fourth-quarter touchdowns (93 yards on 19 plays in 10:22, 62 yards on 12 plays in 3:38). The latter, a five-yard pass from quarterback Kent Graham to wide receiver Frank Sanders, tied the score with 11 seconds remaining. Two plays into overtime, running back LeShon Johnson raced 66 yards to set the table for kicker Greg Davis' 24-yard game-winning field goal two plays later.

Graham established personal bests with 37-for-58 passing for 366 yards and four touchdowns and equalled two team single-game records—37 completions (Neil Lomax, 1984) and 14 consecutive completions (Steve Beuerlein, 1994). Graham also became the 11th Cardinal to throw four or more touchdown passes in a game. Johnson's pivotal overtime dash was the longest non-scoring run by a Cardinal since 1979 (Ottis Anderson, 75 yards).

Cowboys 17, Cardinals 3

October 13, 1996 • Texas Stadium (64,096)

Dallas prevailed in a defensive struggle at Texas Stadium in the Cowboys' 12th consecutive victory over the Cardinals. The efficient contest was fumbleless and nearly penalty-free with only one pass interception on each side. The two old rivals combined for just 81 total net yards (53 passing, 28 rushing), 5 first downs, 8 completed passes in 15 attempts, and 9 punts in 10 possessions in the uneventful, near-scoreless first half. Dallas kicker Chris Boniol broke the silence with a 23-yard field goal five seconds before halftime. Card cornerback Aeneas Williams registered his first interception of the season to thwart the Cowboys' first second-half possession, but on their next drive, the Pokes marched 62 yards in 12 plays, a drive running back Emmitt Smith capped with the 100th rushing touchdown of his career. Card kicker Greg Davis kept things interesting with a 49-yard field goal midway through the fourth quarter to pull Arizona to within 10–3, but Dallas plowed 56 yards in seven plays on its ensuing possession to clinch the outcome. Smith covered the final 13 yards for his second touchdown.

The Cards struggled offensively against the NFL's top-rated defense. Their first seven possessions ended with punts. They gained only 178 total yards (120 passing, 58 rushing).

Cardinals 13, Buccaneers 9

October 20, 1996 • Sun Devil Stadium (27,738)

Ball-control, turnover-free offenses and remarkably even statistics accented a low-scoring affair that produced only seven possessions for each team. The 10 points the Cardinals tallied on their first two trips downfield proved to be enough. Arizona held the ball for 12:15 of the first quarter, 6:30 of the second stanza. Tampa Bay monopolized the pigskin for 8:39 of the third quarter, 9:55 of the fourth. Greg Davis' 22-yard first-quarter field goal was the work of a 16-play, 76-yard drive. A five-yard Kent Graham-to-Larry Centers second-quarter touchdown pass ended a 16-play, 81-yard drive that took 8:11 off the clock. The teams traded third-quarter field goals. Davis' 37-yard three-pointer ended a 14-play, 74-yard drive that took 6:21. Tampa Bay's early fourth-quarter touchdown, a one-yard plunge by rookie fullback Mike Alstott, was tempered when Cardinal strong safety Matt Darby blocked the point-after-touchdown attempt. Tampa Bay also missed two field goals.

The Cardinal defense punctuated the ending by limiting the Bucs to two first downs on their final two possessions that never reached Arizona territory. The Cards also were flagged for only two penalties for just 15 yards compared to 14 flags for 114 yards for Tampa Bay.

Graham led the Cardinals in rushing with 40 yards in addition to 146 yards passing.

The two teams produced only two plays from scrimmage over 20 yards, both Tampa Bay pass completions (24 and 21 yards).

Jets 31, Cardinals 21

October 27, 1996 • Sun Devil Stadium (28,088)

The 0–8 New York Jets rode running back Adrian Murrell's team-record 199-yard rushing effort, 454 yards total offense, and 71 percent third-down efficiency (10–14) to post their only victory of the season.

The Jets, leading 17–0 at halftime, withstood a furious second-half Arizona rally that included touchdowns on three consecutive possessions. The Cardinals appeared to have gained the game's momentum in the third quarter when they recovered Murrell's fumble on the Jets' first play from scrimmage following the Cards' first touchdown. Four plays later, Centers caught his second touchdown pass, a two-yarder, to slice the deficit to 17–14.

The Jets drove 90 yards in 13 plays for a one-yard Murrell touchdown plunge, but Leeland McElroy returned the ensuing kickoff 92 yards. Two plays later, quarterback Kent Graham tossed his third touchdown pass, a six-yarder to ex-Jet wide receiver Rob Moore.

New York led 24–21. The two teams exchanged punts. Murrell broke the contest open on the Jets' next possession by dashing 78 yards to Arizona's two-yard line, the second-longest run in history by a Cardinal opponent. Running back Reggie Cobb posted the clinching touchdown on the next play.

Cornerback Aeneas Williams posted his fourth career double interception outing.

Giants 16, Cardinals 8

November 3, 1996 • Giants Stadium (68,262)

Two-for-14 third-down efficiency (14 percent) and a 29-yard rushing effort doomed the Cardinals as they fell to the N.Y. Giants for the 12th time in their last 13 visits to the Meadowlands.

The Cardinals narrowly avoided their second shutout of the season when they tallied their only points on a seven-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Boomer Esiason to wide receiver Frank Sanders with 40 seconds to play. Arizona's offensive frustrations were heightened by its generally advantageous field position. The Cardinals began three of their 13 possessions inside New York territory. A fourth began at Arizona's 46-yard line. The four drives netted no points (one deflected field-goal attempt, one interception, two punts).

Both teams lost their starting quarterbacks—the Cards' Kent Graham, the Giants' Dave Brown—to injury in the first half. Esiason and rookie Danny Kanell replaced them, respectively.

The Giants rode a 135-yard rushing attack that featured a 94-yard day by workhorse Rodney Hampton.

An uneventful first half ended 3–0 on the strength of the first of three field goals by the Giants' Brad Daluiso. The third quarter followed a similar script with Daluiso adding his second three-pointer. New York iced the outcome on its first possession of the fourth quarter when Kanell found wide receiver Thomas Lewis with a 24-yard touchdown pass. Daluiso added his third—and longest (45 yards)—field goal on the Giants' next possession.

Cardinals 37, Redskins 34 (OT)

November 10, 1996 • RFK Stadium (51,929)

The Cardinals rode a record-setting passing effort by quarterback Boomer Esiason to shock NFC East Division-leading Washington in overtime. Esiason's personal best 522 passing yards were the third most prolific total in NFL history while also setting Cardinal and Redskin opponent single-game records.

Arizona's defense held Washington pointless following all five Cardinal turnovers. New Cardinal kicker Kevin Butler, signed five days earlier, sealed the victory with his third field goal, a 32-yarder, after he and Redskin kicker Scott Blanton traded overtime misses.

Washington snapped the 13–13 halftime tie with two third-quarter touchdowns. Facing a 34–20 hole with 10:37 remaining, Esiason drove the Cards 80 yards in eight plays, a drive capped by rookie tight end Johnny McWilliams' first NFL touchdown, a 13-yard reception. Esiason had the ball again at the Arizona 34-yard line with 1:24 to play following a Washington punt. Seven plays, 66 yards, and 1:04 later, the score was tied when Esiason found wide receiver Anthony Edwards with a 12-yard scoring pass.

Arizona's 615 total yards were the first 600-yard outing in franchise history and the highest total in the NFL in six years (676, Washington vs. Detroit, Nov. 4, 1990).

Cardinals 31, Giants 23

November 17, 1996 • Sun Devil Stadium (34,924)

The Cardinals tallied touchdowns on three consecutive first-half possessions, including their first two first-quarter touchdowns in 19 games, en route to a wire-to-wire 31–23 victory over the Giants.

Once the Cards' lead reached 14–0, New York never was able to pull to within eight points or less and regain possession of the ball. Arizona's 31-point outburst was its highest point total against the Giants since 1984 (31 points). The Cardinal defense limited New York to three field goals on the Giants' three longest drives (11–57, 16–88, 16–49). New York turnovers led to 10 Cardinal points—Arizona's second touchdown, fullback Cedric Smith's first career rushing six-pointer followed cornerback Aeneas Williams' fourth interception, and an 18-yard Kevin Butler field goal.

Quarterback Boomer Esiason passed the 20-mile mark in career passing yardage. Rookie defensive end Simeon Rice posted two quarterback sacks to raise his season total to eight, breaking Ken Harvey's 1988 Cardinal rookie record (6).

The Cardinals cracked the 30-point barrier for the second consecutive game for the first time in 132 outings (weeks five-six, 1988). Running backs Larry Centers (39 yards) and LeShon Johnson (35 yards) registered their longest career pass receptions.

Cardinals 36, Eagles 30

November 24, 1996 • Sun Devil Stadium (36,175)

The Cardinals completed their first winning November since 1987 and extended their winning streak to three games by scoring touchdowns on their last three possessions.

Arizona appeared to seize control at 22–13 with 10 second-half points on Kevin Butler's third field goal and tight end Pat Carter's first touchdown reception since 1994. The two teams traded touchdowns, the second a two-yard scoring pass from quarterback Boomer Esiason to fullback Larry Centers that gave Arizona a seemingly comfortable 29–20 lead with 2:45 to play. But Philadelphia's Derrick Witherspoon returned the ensuing kickoff 95 yards for a touchdown, then recovered the Eagles' onsides kickoff. Nine plays later, Gary Anderson booted his third field goal to give the Eagles a stunning 30–29 lead with 52 seconds remaining. Following Leeland McElroy's 28-yard kickoff return, the Cards stood 66 yards from pay dirt with no timeouts remaining. Esiason marched Arizona downfield with completions of 18, 12, and 12 yards before hitting wide receiver Marcus Dowdell with a 24-yard touchdown pass.

Vikings 41, Cardinals 17

December 1, 1996 • Metrodome (45,767)

The Vikings dominated the contest from start to finish en route to a convincing 41–17 verdict. Minnesota posted touchdowns on its first four second-half possessions to swell its 13–3 halftime lead to 41–10. The Vikings' 41-point explosion, highlighted by quarterback Brad Johnson's four touchdown passes to four different receivers—Amp Lee (19 yards), Jake Reed (40 yards), Qadry Ismail (13 yards), and Cris Carter (4 yards)—was the highest total allowed by the Cardinals since a 41–3 loss at Washington on Nov. 29, 1992, a span of 66 games.

The Viking defense forced three Arizona turnovers, all by quarterback Boomer Esiason (two interceptions, one fumble), leading to 17 Viking points. It also limited the Cardinals to 35 yards rushing on 12 attempts. Minnesota enjoyed a lopsided 37:46–22:14 time-of-possession advantage. While directing the Vikes' turnover-free effort, Johnson completed 19-of-26 passes for 238 yards and four touchdowns. Fullback Larry Centers tallied both Arizona touchdowns in the fourth quarter, the first a nine-yard pass from Esiason, the second a one-yard run.

Cowboys 10, Cardinals 6

December 8, 1996 • Sun Devil Stadium (70,763)

The Dallas Cowboys returned to Sun Devil Stadium for the first time since winning Super Bowl XXX on the same field and prevailed in a defensive struggle for their 13th consecutive victory over the Cardinals.

Two Kevin Butler field goals staked Arizona to a 6–0 halftime lead. The Cowboys returned the favor in the second half, holding the Cardinals scoreless (four punts, one fumble, one interception) while posting 10 points on a 50-yard touchdown reception by wide receiver Michael Irvin and a 31-yard Chris Boniol field goal.

The Cardinal defense held Dallas to 80 yards rushing and recovered two Cowboy fumbles at the Arizona nine- and five-yard lines to thwart scoring threats. The game's pivotal exchange occurred midway through the third quarter with the Cards nursing their 6–0 lead. Running back Leeland McElroy circled right end on a 32-yard run only to fumble the ball to Dallas at its 32-yard line. Four plays later, Irvin broke two tackles en route to the end zone.

Irvin caught eight passes for 198 yards and the game's lone touchdown. The Cowboys' 10 points followed two of Arizona's four turnovers (two fumbles, two interceptions). Despite reaching Dallas territory six times in 11 possessions, Arizona's offense could muster only two field goals. It was Arizona's third touchdownless outing of 1996 and its second against Dallas.

Cardinals 27, Redskins 26

December 15, 1996 • Sun Devil Stadium (34,260)

The Cardinals used a last-play Kevin Butler field goal to better Washington for the second time in 1996, Arizona's seventh victory in its past eight meetings against the Redskins. It was Butler's 15th career game-winning field goal.

The teams traded unusual second-quarter scoring plays. Pro Bowl defensive tackle Eric Swann scooped a Redskin fumble and returned it 11 yards before lateraling to outside linebacker Jamir Miller who raced the final 26 yards. Two minutes later, Marcus Dowdell's muffed punt return was recovered by Redskin Scott Turner in Arizona's end zone for the first of four consecutive Washington scores—two touchdowns, two field goals. The Redskins led 23–14. The Cards revived with a Butler field goal and a 21-yard scoring pass (Kent Graham to Frank Sanders) to take a short-lived 24–23 lead in the fourth quarter. A 35-yard field goal by Scott Blanton gave Washington a 26–24 advantage with 7:14 to play. Graham drove Arizona 69 yards on 15 plays to set the table for Butler's heroics.

Arizona tallied its first opening-drive touchdown in 42 games. Defensive end Simeon Rice collected two sacks to raise his season total to 12.5, equalling the 1986 NFL rookie record of San Diego's Leslie O'Neal.

Eagles 29, Cardinals 19

December 22, 1996 • Veterans Stadium (63,658)

The playoff-bound Eagles tallied a defensive touchdown in the game's first minute, the first of 16 unanswered Philadelphia points, and never were threatened in the regular-season finale for both teams.

By the fourth quarter, Philadelphia's advantage swelled to 29–6 before two quick Cardinal touchdowns—a 22-yard reception by running back Leeland McElroy, and a 65-yard interception return by Pro Bowl cornerback Aeneas Williams, the Cards' second defensive touchdown in as many weeks and the sixth of Williams' career (fourth by interception)—narrowed the gap to the final 29–19 count.

Eagle kicker Gary Anderson established a Cardinal single-game opponent record with five field goals. Arizona mustered only 229 total yards (71 rushing). Middle linebacker Eric Hill put the finishing touches on his finest NFL season with 14 solo tackles and 21 combined tackles, both team bests for 1996, and the Cards' top effort since safety Lorenzo Lynch posted the same numbers in overtime vs. Chicago on November 27, 1994, a span of 37 games.

The Cards finished with a 7–9 record, their 12th consecutive non-winning campaign. Fullback Larry Centers' six receptions raised his 1996 total to 99 catches to lead the league's running backs for the second consecutive season.

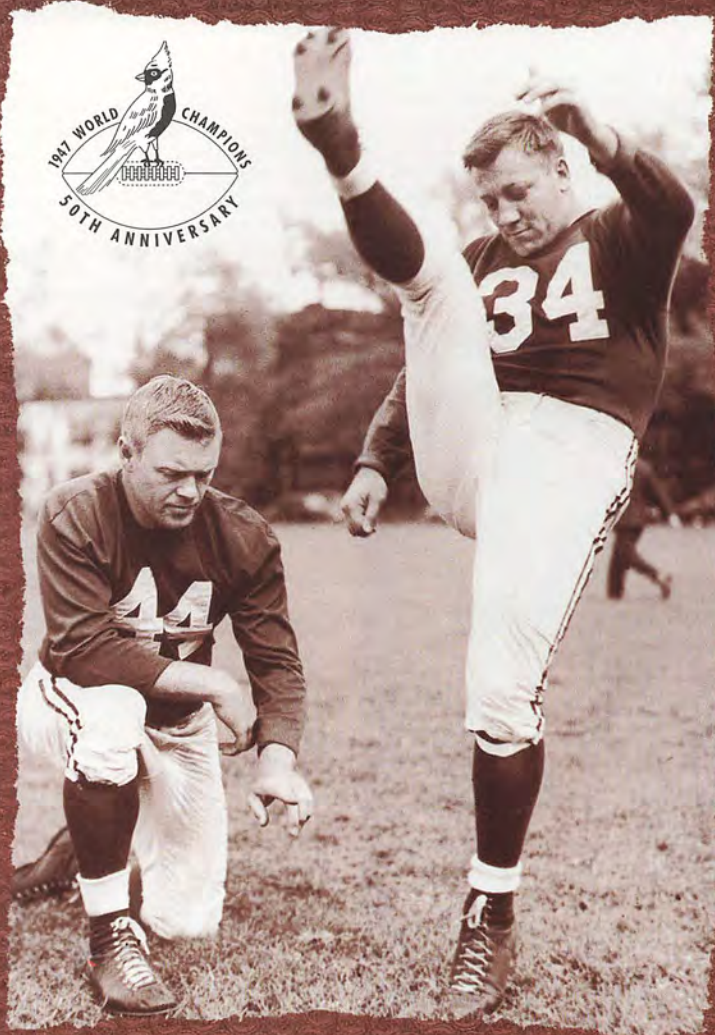
History



Two stalwarts of the Chicago Cardinals' 1947 championship team were quarterback Paul Christman, left, and fullback/kicker Pat Harder.

Franchise History

The Cardinals, a charter member of the National Football League, boast the distinction of being the oldest continuously run professional football franchise in the nation.

The 1997 season marks the 50th anniversary of the Chicago Cardinals' 1947 NFL championship season when Head Coach Jimmy Conzelman led the Cards to a 10–3 overall record that included a 28–21 title-game victory over the Philadelphia Eagles at Comiskey Park in Chicago.

Cardinal founder Charles W. Bidwill, Sr. is a member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

The Early Days

Founded in 1898, the team began as a neighborhood group which gathered to play football in a predominantly Irish area of Chicago's south side, playing under the name Morgan Athletic Club. The team later was acquired by Chris O'Brien, a painting and decorating contractor, and soon its playing site changed to nearby Normal Field, prompting the new name Normals.

In 1901, the team gained longstanding identification when O'Brien, finding a bargain, bought used jerseys from the nearby University of Chicago. The jerseys were faded maroon in color, prompting O'Brien to declare, "That's not maroon, it's Cardinal red!" The club's permanent nickname had been born!

The jersey color and the location of the field led to a new and obvious name, the Racine Cardinals.

In Chicago at the time, football competition was exclusively amateur, but such opposition became increasingly hard to find, so in 1906, the team had to disband.

In 1913, O'Brien reorganized the Cardinals. By 1917 they were able to buy new uniforms and hire a coach, Marshall Smith. That year they lost only two games and were champions of the Chicago Football League.

The war in Europe and a flu epidemic in the United States forced the team to suspend operations once again in 1918. Following Armistice Day, O'Brien organized the Cardinals for a third time. From that day forward, the Cardinals have been a permanent part of the professional football scene in America.

Growth

The Racine Cardinals, their popularity growing in the Chicago area, eventually became one of 11 charter members of the American Professional Football League, forerunner of the NFL, in 1920 for the $100 franchise fee. Immediately after joining the league, O'Brien lured a great halfback, John "Paddy" Driscoll, to the Cardinals for $3,000 a year, a sum considered outlandish at the time. But Driscoll was an authentic superstar, a superior runner, blocker, punter, and possibly the finest drop kicker in the history of football.

One of Driscoll's young running backs was Ralph Horween, a former star at Harvard, who played under the assumed name of B. McMahon. A Cardinal from 1921–22, Horween scored two rushing touchdowns during his three-year career during the days of leather helmets without face masks, numberless sweater jerseys, and $40 paychecks. Horween's claim to fame, however, would occur many years later. In 1996, the retired lawyer, who was born in Chicago on August 3, 1896, became the National Football League's first centurion! He died in 1997.

In 1922, a team from Racine, Wisconsin joined the NFL, prompting the Cardinals to change their name to the Chicago Cardinals. The same year the Cardinals also moved into their new home in Comiskey Park on Chicago's south side.

Under new Head Coach Norman Barry, the Cardinals outdistanced a field of 20 teams to win their first NFL championship in 1925.

A Chicago physician, Dr. David Jones, purchased the team in 1929. In his first year of ownership, he coaxed running back Ernie Nevers out of retirement to become player-coach. Still in his prime, the 26-year-old Nevers scored 40 points on six touchdowns and four extra points in an historic 40–6 victory over the crosstown Bears on Thanksgiving Day, 1929.

After guiding the Cardinals to a 16–14–3 composite record in three seasons, the legendary Nevers retired as both coach and player in 1932.

Modern Era

Nevers' departure also marked the arrival of a new club owner. Charles W. Bidwill, Sr., a vice president of the Chicago Bears, purchased the Cardinals for Jones' asking price of $50,000. Bidwill divested himself of his Bears' holdings and a new era began.

However, the team sorely missed Nevers' magic on the field. The Cardinals endured difficult years in the 1930s and early '40s. World War II hit the team heavily. The Cardinals' top passer, receiver, and lineman—Johnny Clement, Bill Dewell, and Joe Kuharich, respectively—entered the service. In 1944 as a war-time emergency measure, the Cardinals combined with the Pittsburgh Steelers to play as one team. It was called Card-Pitt. Co-coached by the Cardinals' Phil Handler and the Steelers' Walt Kiesling, a former Cardinal guard, the team split its home games between Comiskey Park and Forbes Field in Pittsburgh but failed to win a game in 10 tries.

Success finally returned following the war. In 1945, the arrival of University of Missouri quarterback Paul Christman trumpeted the team's conversion to the "T" formation. Fullback Pat Harder and halfback Elmer Angsman were added in 1946. And in 1947, the "Million Dollar Backfield" was completed when halfback Charley Trippi became a Cardinal.

The 1947 Cardinals stormed to the Western Division title and the NFL championship, but the title season was bittersweet for the Cardinals' organization. In April, the death of Bidwill, who helped guide the NFL through the Depression, deprived the owner of witnessing the club's first NFL crown in 22 years.

With his passing, Bidwill's widow, Violet Bidwill, assumed control of the franchise for the next 15 years, a span that included a second consecutive Western Division championship and appearance in the 1948 NFL championship game, a 7–0 loss at Philadelphia, and the transfer of the team from Chicago to St. Louis in 1960.

Upon Mrs. Bidwill's death in January of 1962, team control moved to sons Charles W.

Bidwill, Jr. and William V. Bidwill. In 1972, the latter and his family gained sole ownership with William becoming managing general partner. On July 1, 1976, incorporation of the company was accomplished with Bidwill continuing as chief executive officer.

After 14 years in the city, the Cardinals brought their first championship to St. Louis in 1974. The Big Red captured the NFC East Division flag under Head Coach Don Coryell and advanced to the playoffs with a 10–4 regular-season record.

However, the Cardinals lost to the Minnesota Vikings, 30–14, in their first playoff appearance since 1948.

Again in 1975, Coryell provided St. Louis with a division title but another playoff loss, this time to the Rams in Los Angeles, 35–23, ending the Cards' post-season dream in their first outing.

The Cardinals next appeared in the playoffs in 1982 when Head Coach Jim Hanifan's club lost a first-round game at Green Bay, 41–16. In 1984, an offensively explosive St. Louis team narrowly missed the playoffs—and the NFC East title—with a 9–7 record. However, the Cardinals stumbled to a 5–11 mark in 1985, prompting Hanifan's dismissal and the hiring of long-time Dallas Cowboy assistant Gene Stallings as the team's new head coach.

Arizona

After 28 years in St. Louis, the Cardinals relocated to Arizona in the spring of 1988 and made Sun Devil Stadium on the campus of Arizona State University their new home.

Their first season in the Valley of the Sun began optimistically when the team raced to a 7–4 record and a share of the NFC East Division lead. But untimely injuries struck and a five-game losing streak ensued to finish the year, dashing hopes of the club's first post-season berth since 1982.

However, the Cardinals' new home provided club single-game (67,139 vs. Dallas in the Arizona inaugural game) and single-season (472,937) attendance records in the team's first autumn in Arizona.

Three coaching changes and a name change have altered the face of the Cardinals since their Arizona arrival. Following their first two seasons in the desert, long-time Washington Redskin assistant Joe Bugel arrived as head coach, a position he held for four seasons until Buddy Ryan was named to replace him and serve as general manager on February 3, 1994. Vince Tobin succeeded Ryan on February 7, 1996.

On March 17, 1994, President Bidwill announced his intention to change the name of the team to the Arizona Cardinals. The change was adopted unanimously by vote of NFL owners the following week.

All the Cardinals' franchise attendance records have been established since moving to the desert. The record-setting inaugural season attendance total was eclipsed in 1994 when 497,330 fans, or 62,166 per game, spun the Sun Devil Stadium turnstiles.

The top 10 single-game home crowds in franchise history have watched the Cardinals in Sun Devil Stadium, including the largest, a throng of 73,025 that saw the Cards face Dallas on September 19, 1993.

The 1995 season also marked another milestone when the Cardinals served as the host team for Super Bowl XXX at Sun Devil Stadium on January 28, 1996.

Heritage

The list of former Cardinals enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame grew to 14 in 1996 when former offensive lineman Dan Dierdorf joined the elite group. The University of Michigan product, currently a member of the popular ABC-TV "Monday Night Football" broadcast crew, played every down of his illustrious 13-year (1971–83) career as a Cardinal.

The others are Charles Bidwill, Guy Chamberlin, Conzelman, Driscoll, Kiesling, Curly Lambeau, Dick "Night Train" Lane, Ollie Matson, Nevers, Jackie Smith, Jim Thorpe, Trippi, and Larry Wilson. Wilson currently serves the Cardinals as a vice president.

Cardinal Camelot Days

Deep in the heart of every forest there lives a Merlin. No matter how bleak the surroundings, the presence of the mercurial wizard brings welcome light and a touch of the fantastic, the magical.

It would be fair to say faithful fans of Cardinals football at one time or another have wondered, as King Arthur once did, "Where are you, Merlin?"

Fans of the Arizona Cardinals, ne Phoenix Cardinals, ne St. Louis Cardinals, ne Chicago Cardinals, ne Racine Cardinals, ne the Normals, ne Morgan Athletic Club have endured their fair share of suffering over the span of the National Football League's 77 years.

"But," to custom-paraphrase King Arthur's wistful recollection in Camelot, "wasn't there a time in an autumn long gone by ... for one, brief, shining moment that was known as Camelot?"

Indeed, there was.

The 1997 season marks the 50th anniversary of the Cardinals' last NFL championship, attained back in the resurrectional flush of post-World War II. Those South Siders were living a dream then, the hopeful, shimmering vision of an owner, Charles W. Bidwill, who so captured the love of his players and associates throughout the league that he is enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

For one brief, shining season, the Chicago Cardinals put it all together. The NFL's 15th championship game opened with a surprise controversy and was studded with more big-play touchdowns on the ground than any NFL title game or Super Bowl since.

Sadly, Bidwill didn't live to see it. The club's spearhead since taking over as owner in 1933, Bidwill died in the spring of 1947, but not before fitting the final crucial piece in place to complete the Cardinals' famed "Million Dollar Backfield." It was Bidwill's unprecedented signing of University of Georgia all-America running back Charley Trippi, for the then-unheard of sum of $100,000, that finally would put the Cardinals over the top, winning their one and only NFL championship via a title game.

"The thing that stands out about that ball club," remembers Trippi, "was the desire they had within themselves to win. We were like a family. We wanted to go all the way because the Cardinals had never been in that position. (The 1925 team took the league crown on the basis of best overall season record. No championship games were played then.) We had an opportunity that year to achieve something, and that's exactly what we did. It was a great thrill, really. There's nothing like being on a championship team."

"That team played for nothing," adds Elmer Angsman, a mainstay at right halfback in the "Million Dollar Backfield," a.k.a. the "Dream Backfield." "And you know, I never knew a guy who didn't want to play."

To appreciate the accomplishment of the 1947 squad, some perspective is necessary.

Just two seasons earlier, in 1945, the Cardinals as a team were outscored for the entire season by Philadelphia's premier running back, Steve Van Buren, 110–98. But the following year, the third-winningest coach in Cardinals history, the omnitalented Jimmy Conzelman, led Chicago out of the desolate wilderness to a 6–5 mark, the club's first winning season since 1935.

Several key Cardinals were already in place for the championship run. In 1945, the organization drafted Missouri's talented passer, Paul Christman, before adding churning Wisconsin fullback Pat Harder, Angsman of Notre Dame, and brilliant end/defensive back Mal Kutner from Texas in '46. Another great end, Billy Dewell, had returned from military service for the '45 season. The staple of Conzelman's ensemble was a relic from the late '30s—versatile Marshall "Biggie" Goldberg, an intuitive defensive back who was the first real free safety in pro football and the "dean" of the "Million Dollar Backfield." Also a running back, Goldberg, a two-time all-America at Pittsburgh, had seen his productive days offensively, too, but they were mostly behind him when Conzelman began his second reign as the Cards' head man in '46.

Fullback/kicker Pat Harder still shares the NFL record for single-game point-after-touchdown conversions with nine.

Chicago started quickly in 1947 by winning its first three outings, a run that included a 31–7 trouncing of their hated crosstown rivals, the Chicago Bears. In week four, the Cardinals headed to Los Angeles on a trip heavy with fate. They incurred their first loss of the season, 27–7 to the Rams, but lost something far more precious than a game.

Rookie punter Jeff Burkett suffered an appendicitis attack and missed the game as well as the team plane back to Chicago. Burkett spent several days recuperating after the appendectomy before boarding a United Airlines DC-6 bound for home. He never made it. The plane crashed in Bryce Canyon, Utah, killing the young star who was the NFL's leading punter at the time of the tragedy with a 47.4-yard average.

"You have a mental letdown after something tragic like that happens," says Trippi. "Burkett was such a tremendous kicker. God, he could kick that football!"

Under the pall of the loss of Burkett, the Cardinals climbed to 7–3 but were on the heels of a two-game losing streak heading to Philadelphia on December 7 for a critical game against the Eagles. Trailing 7–3 at the half, Chicago exploded for six second-half touchdowns (two by Trippi) and held the powerful Van Buren to just 44 yards rushing, to grab a crucial 45–21 road win.

Running back Charley Trippi was a rookie in 1947 when he began a nine-year NFL playing career that culminated in his 1968 enshrinement into the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

The victory deadlocked the Cards with the arch rival Bears, who, ironically and poetically, stood as the only remaining obstacle between the Cardinals and their first Western Division crown. A showdown loomed for the regular-season finale the following Sunday at hostile Wrigley Field.

If the '47 Cardinals' miracle season could be summarized in a single moment, the opening play of that division-decider unquestionably would get the vote. It was the creation of mastermind Conzelman, a pass play designed to give the Cardinals an advantage at the outset. In a best-case scenario, the stratagem would isolate Bears left-side linebacker Mike Holovak one-on-one with Boris "Babe" Dimancheff, a blistering speedster who was Trippi's replacement. Conzelman eagerly looked forward to rehearsing the play all week before the big game, but nature did not cooperate. Dimancheff's wife was expecting, and he missed the entire week of practice to be at her side. He did not rejoin the team until the day before the game.

So it was that the biggest play of the season for the soon-to-be-champion Cardinals never had a single dry run.

Game day dawned!

"Everything went as planned," recalls Angsman. "We swung Babe on a flair pattern, turned him outside the end, then down over the center of the field. He outdistanced Holovak, and Christman just laid it up in the air. Dimancheff caught it, but then he stumbled over the pitcher's mound on his way in! It hadn't been shaved down much. We played on baseball fields a lot then, and it was always something you went out and looked at before the game."

The Cardinals intercepted four passes by legendary Bear quarterback Sid Luckman and converted two into touchdowns for a 30–21 win. Victories over the Bears were especially sweet. A sore spot with all the old Big Red was their inescapable status as Chicago's "other" team.

"We beat the Bears four times in six meetings during the '46, '47 and '48 seasons," laments Chet Bulger, a guard with the Cardinals from 1942–49. "Eleven of their guys are in the Hall of Fame. Only one of ours, Trippi, is in. I'll tell ya, three guys who oughta be in there are Goldberg, (center) Vince Banonis, and Kutner."

The Western Division crown now in hand, the Cardinals prepared to play host to the league championship game a fortnight later against Eastern Division powerhouse Philadelphia.

On December 28, 1947, a grim, frozen Comiskey Park on Chicago's South Side gave little indication of the approaching heat of the day's upcoming war. Even the preliminaries generated a spark. Pre-kickoff controversy raged when it was discovered the Eagles, in attempts to get better gripping on the concrete-like playing surface, had sharpened and filed their cleats. A succession of penalties for the blatant rules infraction opened the game, infuriating Philadelphia Head Coach Earle "Greasy" Neale.

The Cardinals "always prepared with sneakers and long underwear," according to Angsman, and quietly had slipped on tennis shoes for the frigid affair.

The game was defined by Chicago's quick-openers, producing three devastating, back-breaking, long scoring runs from scrimmage—two 70-yarders by Angsman and a 44-yarder by Trippi.

In the third period, Trippi circled under a high Joe Muha punt, taking it on his own 25-yard line. Spectacularly side-stepping three Eagle pursuers, Trippi pranced 75 yards for a touchdown, getting hit three times along the way.

Angsman's thrilling fourth-quarter duplication of his second-period 70-yard touchdown strike enabled him to break the NFL championship game record for rushing yards with 159.

But Philadelphia fought evenly throughout with one-eyed quarterback Tommy Thompson setting two playoff records on 27-of-44 passing for 297 yards.

The Cardinals' victory, however, wasn't secured until Goldberg's late-game interception.

"We were leading 28–21 with about a minute and a half to play, but the Eagles were moving down the field," Goldberg, who turns 80 this year, articulates. "They sent a man in motion on a pass play. Bill Blackburn, our center, was covering him. I saw Bill slip and fall, and I took off like crazy. I had to cross the field but got there in time to intercept the pass. I didn't even try to run it back. I just wrapped myself around that ball and hugged it."

Bulger recalls going numb. "I just sat there in a chair and went kind of blank like I was in shock," he says. "I couldn't believe what we had done. In my heart, I knew this was the greatest team we ever had."

"... for one, brief, shining moment ..."

"I love those Cardinals," Bulger sighs, before quipping, "and you know, none of us went to jail!" ●

Overtime Games

Cardinals 37, Redskins 34

November 10, 1996 • RFK Stadium (51,929)

The Cardinals rode a record-setting passing effort by quarterback Boomer Esiason to shock NFC East Division-leading Washington in overtime. Esiason's personal best 522 passing yards were the third most prolific total in NFL history while also setting Cardinal and Redskin opponent single-game records. Arizona's defense came to the rescue, too, holding Washington pointless following all five Cardinal turnovers. New Cardinal kicker Kevin Butler, signed five days earlier, sealed the pulsating victory with his third field goal, a 32-yarder, after he and Redskin kicker Scott Blanton traded overtime misses. The Cards were sledding uphill throughout the second half after Washington snapped the 13–13 halftime tie with two third-quarter touchdowns. A one-yard Larry Centers touchdown plunge cut the deficit to 27–20, but the Redskins answered with Terry Allen's second one-yard touchdown run. Facing a 34–20 hole with 10:37 remaining, Esiason led a furious comeback. He drove the Cards 80 yards in eight plays, a drive culminated by rookie tight end Johnny McWilliams' first NFL touchdown, a 13-yard reception. Esiason had the Cards poised to strike again at the Redskin 25-yard line on the next Arizona possession but tossed his fourth interception. The Card defense held, and Esiason had the ball again at the Arizona 34-yard line with 1:24 to play following Washington's punt. Seven plays, 66 yards, and 1:04 later, the score was tied when Esiason found wide receiver Anthony Edwards with a 12-yard scoring pass. Arizona's 615 total yards were the first 600-yard outing in franchise history and the highest total in the NFL in six years (676, Washington vs. Detroit, Nov. 4, 1990).

Cardinals 31, Rams 28

September 29, 1996 • Sun Devil Stadium (33,116)

The Cardinals scored the game's final 17 points on their last three possessions to post a dramatic 31–28 comeback victory and register their first two-victory September since 1991. It also was the first time in 66 games the Cards overcame a fourth-quarter deficit of 14 points or greater. Although the St. Louis line of scrimmage never advanced farther than the Cards' 34-yard line, Arizona was victimized by four long Ram scoring plays—66-yard punt return and 34-, 46-, and 49-yard passes. The Cards methodically marched to two clock-eating fourth-quarter touchdown drives (93 yards on 19 plays in 10:22, and 62 yards on 12 plays in 3:38) that both culminated in five-yard touchdown passes from quarterback Kent Graham to fullback Larry Centers and wide receiver Frank Sanders, respectively. The latter tied the score with 11 seconds remaining. Two plays into overtime, running back LeShon Johnson raced 66 yards to set the table for kicker Greg Davis' 24-yard game-winning field goal two plays later. Graham established personal bests with 37-for-58 passing for 366 yards and four touchdowns and equalled two team single-game records—37 completions (Neil Lomax, 1984) and 14 consecutive completions (Steve Beuerlein, 1994). Graham also became the 11th Cardinal to throw four or more touchdown passes in a game. Johnson's pivotal overtime dash was the longest non-scoring run by a Cardinal since 1979 (Ottis Anderson, 75 yards). Centers' 13 receptions were his single-game best. Arizona also set a franchise record with 23 first downs passing.

Cardinals 40, Falcons 37

November 26, 1995 • Sun Devil Stadium

The Cardinals mustered their first 500-yard game (513) and highest point total (40) since 1988 in Arizona's third consecutive home overtime contest, equalling Green Bay's 1987 NFL record. Special teams punctuated the contest. In the second quarter, Atlanta kicker Morten Andersen had a point-after-touchdown conversion attempt blocked, and a 46-yard field goal nullified by penalty. The Cards' game-tying touchdown, a two-yard pass from quarterback Dave Krieg to tight end Oscar McBride with 1:57 to play, followed a muffed Atlanta punt return. After an interception by Card linebacker Seth Joyner on Atlanta's ensuing possession, Card kicker Greg Davis missed a 45-yard field-goal attempt on the final play of regulation. Falcon punter Dan Stryzinski muffed an errant center snap on the first overtime possession, then fumbled the ball to the Cards' Eric England at Atlanta's 10-yard line. Davis ended the game with his fourth field goal on the next play. Krieg's 413 passing yards surpassed 400 yards for only the fifth time in team history.

Vikings 30, Cardinals 24

November 12, 1995 • Sun Devil Stadium

For the third time in five games, the Cardinals were extended into overtime. For the second time in '95, it meant sudden death for Arizona. Minnesota wide receiver Qadry Ismail abruptly ended the affair with a 50-yard touchdown pass reception from quarterback Warren Moon 2:16 into the extra stanza. It was Moon's fourth touchdown toss of the afternoon. An early Viking field goal and two second-quarter Moon touchdown passes of 32 and five yards to wide receivers Jake Reed and Cris Carter, respectively, gave Minnesota 17 halftime points. The Cards answered with a nine-yard Dave Krieg-to-Rob Moore touchdown pass and the first of three Greg Davis field goals. The Cardinals inched closer at 17–16 by scoring the only points of the third quarter on Davis' second and third field goals, both from 44 yards. The teams exchanged early fourth-quarter touchdowns—Minnesota on a two-yard Moon-to-Carter connection, Arizona on a two-yard Krieg-to-tight end Wendall Gaines toss. The Cardinals also successfully completed a two-point conversion pass from Krieg to Moore to knot the game at 24–24 with 8:36 to play. It took Minnesota only six plays from scrimmage following the overtime kickoff to end the contest. Leading to Ismail's heroics, the Vikings gained field position with a 29-yard completion to Carter.

Cardinals 20, Seahawks 14

October 29, 1995 • Sun Devil Stadium

Turnovers and an improbable late ebb and flow highlighted Arizona's second overtime game in three outings. The Cardinals grabbed a 14–0 halftime lead on two first-quarter touchdowns—an eight-yard pass from quarterback Dave Krieg to wide receiver Rob Moore, and a five-yard fumble recovery and return by defensive end Keith McCants on the tail end of defensive end Michael Bankston's 28-yard interception return and fumble. Seattle logged 333 of its 428 total yards in the second half and overtime and eventually knotted the score on two touchdown passes to fullback Mack Strong. The Seahawks flirted with late leads on two of their final three possessions, the first ending when running back Chris Warren fumbled inside the Cards' 10-yard line after rambling 52 yards. Card cornerback Aeneas Williams recovered in the end zone for a touchback. After Cardinal running back Larry Centers fumbled at the Arizona 23-yard line, a 43-yard Seattle field-goal attempt four plays later was blocked by defensive tackle Eric Swann. The Seahawks returned the favor on Arizona's overtime-opening possession when Greg Davis' 27-yard three-point attempt was blocked. Seattle then drove to Arizona's 33-yard line only to have Card safety Lorenzo Lynch dramatically end the contest with a 72-yard interception return for a touchdown, the longest overtime interception return for a score in NFL history. Seattle fumbled eight times, a Cardinal opponent record.

Giants 27, Cardinals 21

October 8, 1995 • Giants Stadium

Late turnovers and a missed field goal punctuated a see-saw overtime battle that ended abruptly when Giant linebacker Jessie Armstead returned an interception 58 yards for the game-winning touchdown. Neither team held more than a four-point lead until late in the third quarter when Cardinal quarterback Dave Krieg completed his second touchdown pass to rookie wide receiver Frank Sanders, a six-yard toss the pair followed with a two-point conversion pass, to take a 21–14 advantage. After the Giants knotted the struggle at 21–21, the pulsating ending began with New York poised to take the lead at the Cards' six-yard line with just over three minutes to play, but Arizona linebacker Eric Hill caused a fumble that safety Terry Hoage recovered. A 47-yard Krieg-Sanders completion put the Cards in position to win, but Greg Davis missed a 50-yard field-goal attempt with 23 seconds left. Overtime began with an exchange of fumbles. Armstead's heroics came three plays into the Cards' second overtime possession.

Bears 19, Cardinals 16

Nov. 27, 1994 • Sun Devil Stadium

The Cardinals' third overtime outing in a seven-game span turned into a 19–16 setback when Chicago's Kevin Butler kicked his fourth field goal with 6:49 remaining in the extra period the Cards forced with 10 game-tying fourth-quarter points. The Cardinals enjoyed the first overtime possession, but their drive stalled at the Chicago 38-yard line. The Bears followed with a 70-yard drive leading to Butler's game-winning field goal, a march highlighted by a 44-yard pass from quarterback Steve Walsh to wide receiver Jeff Graham.

Cardinals 20, Steelers 17

Oct. 30, 1994 • Sun Devil Stadium

The Cardinals' second consecutive home sellout crowd—a first since moving to Arizona in 1988—witnessed Arizona's second overtime victory in a three-week span. Card linebacker/long snapper Randy Kirk caused a fumble on the overtime kickoff that Arizona recovered, and four plays later, Greg Davis sent the game-winning field goal through the uprights from 51 yards away.

Cardinals 19, Redskins 16

Oct. 16, 1994 • R.F.K Stadium

Both teams missed long field-goal attempts, but newly-signed kicker Todd Peterson, appearing in his first NFL game as a substitute for the injured Greg Davis, redeemed himself with 4:56 remaining in overtime with a 29-yard game-winner on the Cards' first play from scrimmage following their fifth interception that safety Terry Hoage made and returned 23 yards. The Cards knotted the contest in regulation with 27 seconds remaining on a five-yard pass from quarterback Steve Beuerlein to wide receiver Ricky Proehl.

Cardinals 30, Seahawks 27

December 19, 1993 • Kingdome

The Cardinals scored the final five times they touched the football—four in regulation, one in overtime. Place kicker Greg Davis tied the game at 27–27 on the final play of regulation with a franchise-record and personal-best 55-yard field goal. After winning the overtime coin toss, the Cardinals started the game-winning drive at their 20-yard line. Thirteen plays later, including a crucial 12-yard third-and-nine midfield completion to wide receiver Anthony Edwards, Davis delivered again with a 41-yard game-winning field goal.

Cardinals 10, Eagles 10

December 7, 1986 • Veterans Stadium

One blocked field goal, two punts, and two missed field goals in overtime led to the 10–10 tie after the Cardinals erased a 10–3 deficit with only 2:39 left in regulation with a 48-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Neil Lomax to wide receiver Roy Green. Included in the Cards' season-high 461 yards total offense were 390 passing yards (30-of-48) by Lomax, Green (6 rec., 100 yards) and J.T. Smith (10 rec., 131 yards) enjoyed outstanding efforts. The Cardinals won the overtime coin toss and drove into field goal range, but Eagle Reggie White blocked Eric Schubert's 40-yard field-goal attempt. The teams traded punts before Philadelphia's Paul McFadden pushed a 43-yard field-goal try wide left. Schubert did the same from 37 yards away. On the final play of the extra period, Cardinal cornerback Carl Carter intercepted a pass by Eagle quarterback Matt Cavanaugh and returned it to midfield as time expired.

Cardinals 27, Browns 24

September 8, 1985 • Cleveland Stadium

Neil O'Donoghue kicked a 35-yard field goal with 5:27 gone in overtime to give the Cardinals a 27–24 win over the Browns. The Cards jumped to a 17–3 lead early in the fourth quarter on a 48-yard interception return for a touchdown by Lionel Washington. Cleveland stormed back in a torrential rain to score 21 points on its next three possessions to take a 24–17 advantage with just 38 seconds remaining. With the ball on the Cards' 37-yard line, quarterback Neil Lomax connected with Ottis Anderson on a middle screen for 41 yards, found Stump Mitchell for another 15 yards, then tossed a five-yard touchdown pass to Pat Tilley to tie the game at 24–24 with four seconds to play. The Cardinals won the coin toss and drove nine plays for O'Donoghue's game-winner.

Cardinals 20, Giants 20

October 24, 1983 • Busch Stadium

The Cardinals and Giants fought to a "Monday Night Football" draw in a game best remembered for three missed overtime field-goal attempts by Cardinal kicker Neil O'Donoghue (44, 19, 42 yards). The teams traded punts before O'Donoghue's first miss. The Cardinals drove 81 yards to New York's two-yard line yard prior to his second misfire, a 19-yard attempt. His third errant boot followed an 23-yard interception return by Lionel Washington to New York's 25-yard line. The game ended when Cardinal cornerback Wayne Smith intercepted Giant quarterback Jeff Rutledge at the St. Louis 33-yard line.

Falcons 33, Cardinals 27

November 9, 1980 • Busch Stadium

The Cardinals jumped to a 24–6 halftime lead. Atlanta roared back with 21 points after halftime to win 33–27. Quarterbacks Jim Hart of the Cardinals (344 yards passing) and the Falcons' Steve Bartkowski (378 yards) combined for 722 aerial yards as the teams compiled 978 yards total offense—Cardinals 415, Falcons 563. Hart connected on a pair of long touchdown tosses to Ray Combs (38 yards) and Pat Tilley (50 yards) in the first quarter, and Ottis Anderson scored on an eight-yard run in the second stanza before the Falcons defense stiffened. Atlanta limited the Cards after halftime to minus five yards rushing, 109 yards total offense, and finished the day with five interceptions. Falcon running back Lynn Cain scored twice on runs of five and 10 yards, the latter forcing the overtime period. Atlanta won the coin toss and running back Ray Strong scored on a 21-yard run 4:42 into the extra period to decide the 33–27 verdict.

49ers 24, Cardinals 21

September 14, 1980 • Candlestick Park

The 49ers drove 80 yards in the final two minutes to tie the game at 21–21, then kicked a field goal on their first overtime possession to win. San Francisco opened the scoring when running back Paul Hofer scored on a 19-yard pass from quarterback Steve DeBerg in the second period. The Cards answered with touchdown passes from Jim Hart to running back Theotis Brown (13 yards) and tight end Doug Marsh (five yards) to take a 14–7 lead. After a 49er score tied the game, the Cards drove 75 yards in eight plays to lead 21–14, but allowed San Francisco to drive 80 yards in 53 seconds in the last two minutes, capped by Hofer's second touchdown run, a 26-yarder with 58 ticks left in regulation. The Cardinals won the overtime coin toss, but punted following their first possession. The 49ers took the ball 52 yards to the 16-yard line where Ray Wersching kicked a 33-yard field goal with 4:12 elapsed in overtime.

Cowboys 24, Cardinals 21

October 15, 1978 • Busch Stadium

Veteran Card kicker Jim Bakken saw a 33-yard game-winning field-goal attempt glance off the left upright with less than three minutes to play in regulation. Dallas won the overtime coin toss and the game 24–21 on a 47-yard field goal by Rafael Septien with 3:28 expired. The Cardinals took a 14–7 halftime lead on scoring runs of two and one yards by Jim Otis. Dallas quarterback Roger Staubach connected with wide receiver Tony Hill from 37 and six yards to give the Cowboys a 21–14 third-quarter lead. The Cards tied the game with a one-yard touchdown pass from Hart to running back Wayne Morris early in the fourth period. Hart suffered a separated left shoulder on a sack by Cowboy lineman Harvey Martin late in the game and the following week saw his streak of consecutive starts end at 64 games.

Cardinals 23, 49ers 20

October 31, 1976 • Busch Stadium

Despite a San Francisco ground attack that amassed 265 yards, Card kicker Jim Bakken atoned for a blocked point-after-touchdown attempt that sent the game into overtime with a 21-yard field goal in the extra period for a 23–20 Cardinal victory. With the Cards nursing a 14–13 lead entering the fourth period due to a missed 49er extra point, San Francisco's Delvin Williams, who logged 194 yards rushing, scored the third of his three rushing touchdowns from one yard to give his club a 20–14 lead. Card quarterback Jim Hart connected with wide receiver Mel Gray on a 77-yard touchdown toss with eight minutes left in the game, but Bakken's conversion was blocked and the score remained tied at 20–20. The Cards won the coin toss and were forced to punt, but running back Steve Jones recovered a fumble on the return by 49er Tony Leonard at the 43-yard line. Card running back Jim Otis carried the ball six consecutive times for 39 yards, including a 23-yarder, to set up Bakken's 21-yard game-winner with 6:42 elapsed.

Cardinals 20, Redskins 17

November 16, 1975 • Busch Stadium

In one of the most memorable finishes in franchise history, the Cardinals overcame two fourth-quarter deficits to capture undisputed possession of the NFC East lead with a 7–2 record following a thrilling 20–17 win. Washington took a 14–3 lead into the fourth quarter and a 17–10 advantage with 1:43 to play before the Cardinals took possession on their own 39-yard line. Quarterback Jim Hart connected with wide receiver Earl Thomas for 19 yards to give the Cards a first-and-goal situation at the Washington six-yard line with 50 seconds remaining. After three incompletions, Hart faced fourth-and-goal with 25 ticks left. Speedy wide receiver Mel Gray lined wide right against Redskin cornerback Pat Fischer and ran a quick slant. The two Pro Bowlers ran stride for stride. Hart delivered the ball to the end zone, and Gray emerged from a tangle of arms, legs, and elbows with the ball, then dropped it when Fischer stripped him. After one official ruled incomplete pass and another touchdown, a conference ensued. Referee Fred Silva emerged and signaled touchdown. Jim Bakken converted the extra point to send the game into overtime. The Cards won the coin toss and drove 55 yards to set up Bakken's game-winning 37-yard field goal with seven minutes elapsed.

Cowboys 37, Cardinals 31

September 28, 1975 • Texas Stadium

The Cardinals won the toss. Quarterback Jim Hart's pass was intercepted and returned by Dallas linebacker Lee Roy Jordan to the Cardinals' 37 yard line. Cowboy quarterback Roger Staubach passed to tight end Billy Joe DuPree for a three-yard touchdown at 7:53.

November 27, 1994 ● Chicago 19, Cardinals 16-OT (H)

The Cardinals' third overtime outing in a seven-game span turned into a 19–16 setback when Chicago's Kevin Butler kicked his fourth field goal with 6:49 remaining in the extra period that the Cards forced with 10 game-tying fourth-quarter points. The Bears controlled the flow of the contest from the outset by taking early leads of 7–0, 13–3, and 16–6 behind a 132-yard rushing attack (40 carries). The Cardinal offense continued to struggle, failing to score a touchdown for the second consecutive week. Arizona's defense tallied its first touchdown of the season to cut Chicago's advantage to 16–13 when defensive end Keith McCants intercepted the first pass of his career and returned it 46 yards for his first career touchdown. After the Cards forced a Chicago punt on its ensuing possession, they drove 55 yards in 13 plays for Greg Davis' third field goal of the day, a 47-yarder, that tied the game with 1:04 left. The Cards enjoyed the first overtime possession but their drive stalled at the Chicago 38-yard line. The Bears followed with a 70-yard drive leading to Butler's game-winning field goal that was highlighted by a 44-yard pass from quarterback Steve Walsh to wide receiver Jeff Graham. Card running back Larry Centers set a then-personal single-game best with 10 pass receptions.

✓Series Notes

The Cardinals and Bears boast the oldest regular-season rivalry in NFL history dating to the 1920s when the two shared the Windy City ... the Bears maintain a 54–25–6 advantage in the series, but the teams have split the last eight meetings ... the Cardinals set a then-franchise record attendance mark of 71,233 in Sun Devil Stadium on October 28, 1990 against the Bears, also the largest crowd in the history of the series ... in preseason play, the Cards hold a 22–8 margin and have won the last two outings—16–0 in 1994 and 17–16 in 1995.

December 10, 1989 ● L.A. Raiders 16, Cardinals 14 (A)

The Cardinals lost for the fourth consecutive week and for the third time in as many outings under interim head coach Hank Kuhlmann, a 16–14 defeat to the Raiders at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum. The Cardinal defense posted its strongest effort of the season, holding the Raiders without a touchdown until their final possession. Raider quarterback Steve Beuerlein completed only 13 of 30 passes and was sacked four times. The Cards also forced two fumbles and deflected five of Beuerlein's passes at the line of scrimmage. Six Raider drives ended in field-goal attempts (three successful) and a goal-line stand nearly kept the Raiders out of the end zone in the final minute. Trailing 14–9 with less than 10 minutes remaining, the Raiders covered 46 yards on 13 plays to score the winning touchdown, but only after running seven plays inside the Cardinal 10-yard line. Quarterback Tom Tupa made his NFL punting debut for the Cards in relief of injured regular Rich Camarillo. The Arizona rushing attack cracked the 100-yard plateau for the first time in six games.

✓Series Notes

The two teams have met just three times in regular-season play ... the Raiders hold a 2–1 advantage ... the Raiders won 17–10 at Busch Stadium in St. Louis in 1973 and at the L.A. Memorial Coliseum by a 16–14 count in 1989 ... the Cards' lone triumph was a 34–24 win at the Coliseum in 1983 ... the 1996 preseason meeting—a 26–3 Raider win—was played just five days short of the 20-year anniversary of the inaugural NFL game in Arizona ... in the only other August meeting, the Raiders defeated the Cards 20–9 on August 7, 1976 before a crowd of 33,216 at Sun Devil Stadium in the first professional football game played in the stadium that would become the Cardinals' home 12 years later.

October 29, 1995 ● Cardinals 20, Seattle 14-OT (H)

Arizona went into overtime for the second time in three outings. The Cardinals grabbed a 14–0 halftime lead on two first-quarter touchdowns, an eight-yard pass from quarterback Dave Krieg to wide receiver Rob Moore, and a five-yard fumble recovery and return by defensive end Keith McCants on the tail end of defensive end Michael Bankston's 28-yard interception return and fumble. Seattle logged 333 of its 428 total yards in the second half and overtime to knot the score on two touchdown passes to fullback Mack Strong. Arizona's overtime-opening possession ended when Greg Davis' 27-yard field-goal attempt was blocked. Seattle then drove to Arizona's 33-yard line only to have Card safety Lorenzo Lynch dramatically end the contest with a 72-yard interception return for a touchdown, the longest scoring overtime interception return in NFL history. The Cardinal defense forced seven turnovers (four interceptions, three fumble recoveries). Seattle fumbled eight times, a Cardinal opponent record.

✓Series Notes

The Cardinals are undefeated in five regular-season outings against Seattle ... the victories have come by scores of 30–24 in 1976, 33–28 in 1983, 34–24 in 1989, and overtime triumphs of 30–27 in 1993 and 20–14 in 1995 in the last two meetings ... the Seahawks hold a 6–3 advantage in the preseason series.

September 29, 1996 ● Cardinals 31, St. Louis 28-OT (H)

The Cardinals scored the game's final 17 points on their last three possessions to post a dramatic 31–28 comeback victory and register their first two-victory September since 1991. It also was the first time in 66 games the Cards overcame a fourth-quarter deficit of 14 points or greater. The Cards were victimized by four long Ram scoring plays (66-yard punt return and 34-, 45-, and 49-yard passes). The Cards marched to two clock-eating fourth-quarter touchdowns (93 yards on 19 plays in 10:22, 62 yards on 12 plays in 3:38). The latter, a five-yard pass from quarterback Kent Graham to wide receiver Frank Sanders, tied the score with 11 seconds remaining. Two plays into overtime, running back LeShon Johnson raced 66 yards to set the table for kicker Greg Davis' 24-yard game-winning field goal two plays later. Graham established personal bests with 37-for-58 passing for 366 yards and four touchdowns and equalled two team single-game records—37 completions (Neil Lomax, 1984) and 14 consecutive completions (Steve Beuerlein, 1994). Graham also became the 11th Cardinal to throw four or more touchdown passes in a game. Johnson's pivotal overtime dash was the longest non-scoring run by a Cardinal since 1979 (Ottis Anderson, 75 yards).

✓Series Notes

Cards' first return to St. Louis after relocating to Arizona following the 1987 season ... first preseason meeting since the Rams moved to St. Louis in 1995 ... the Rams hold a 17–13–2 advantage in the regular-season series dating to 1946 when the two teams were in the NFL's Western Division ... the Rams handed the Cards a 35–23 defeat in a first-round playoff game on December 27, 1975 at the L.A. Coliseum.

November 26, 1995 ● Cardinals 40, Atlanta 37-OT (H)

The Cardinals mustered their first 500-yard game and highest point total since 1988 in Arizona's third consecutive overtime home contest, equalling Green Bay's 1987 NFL record. Special teams punctuated the ebb and flow. In the second quarter, Atlanta kicker Morten Andersen had a point-after-touchdown conversion attempt blocked and a 46-yard field goal nullified by penalty. The Cards' game-tying touchdown, a two-yard pass from quarterback Dave Krieg to tight end Oscar McBride with 1:57 to play, followed a muffed Atlanta punt return. After an interception by Card linebacker Seth Joyner on Atlanta's ensuing possession, Card kicker Greg Davis missed a 45-yard field-goal attempt on the final play of regulation. Falcon punter Dan Stryzinski muffed an errant center snap on the first overtime possession, then fumbled the ball to the Cardinals at Atlanta's 10-yard line. Davis ended the game on the next play with his fourth field goal. Arizona wide receiver Rob Moore (8–121, 1 TD) and running back Larry Centers (7–101) both cracked 100 yards receiving. Krieg's 413 passing yards surpassed 400 yards for only the fifth time in team history.

✓Series Notes

Arizona holds a 12–6 overall advantage ... the Cards were victims of Atlanta's first home victory as a new franchise, a 16–10 defeat on December 11, 1966 ... at one stretch in the series, the Cardinals won five consecutive games (1971–76) ... Arizona owns a 6–1 mark at home against Atlanta ... 1997 marks the eighth time in the past nine seasons the teams have met during the regular season.

September 18, 1994 ● Cleveland 32, Cardinals 0 (A)

The Cards suffered their first shutout in 43 games (Oct. 27, 1991 vs. Minnesota) and the first of Buddy Ryan's 82-game head-coaching career. Offensive frustrations continued. The Cards' leading rusher (31 yards) was quarterback Jim McMahon in his only start for Arizona. The Cards failed to gain 100 team rushing yards. Six of 13 possessions, including the first three, ended in three plays. McMahon and reliever Jay Schroeder were intercepted three times. The final steal, off Schroeder in his first Cardinal appearance, was returned 93 yards for a touchdown by Browns' defensive back Eric Turner, the longest opponent interception return in Cardinal history. Arizona trailed only 3–0 at halftime, but Cleveland scored touchdowns on three of its first four second-half possessions, capped by an 81-yard scoring connection from quarterback Vinny Testaverde to rookie wide receiver Derrick Alexander, to seize a 25–0 lead. Defensive tackle Eric Swann led Arizona with nine tackles, including eight solo stops, a tackle for loss, its only quarterback sack, and a caused fumble.

✓Series Notes

Cleveland/Baltimore leads the series by a 32–10–3 margin, including victories in three of the last four meetings ... the two teams have met just four times since 1974 and just once in the 1990s (1994) ... from 1950–69, the teams met each season on a home-and-home basis as members of the NFL Eastern Conference, a stretch of 40 games when the Browns accumulated a 29–8–3 advantage ... Cleveland prevailed in the first 12 meetings from 1950–55, the longest winning streak in the series ... the Cards' first success against the Browns was a 9–7 decision at Chicago in 1956.

December 18, 1994 ● Cardinals 28, Cincinnati 7 (H)

The Cardinals tallied touchdowns on three consecutive first-half possessions to seize an insurmountable 21–0 lead, raising Arizona's record (8–7) over .500 in December for the first time since 1984. The one-sided contest featured the Cards' 41:31–18:29 time-of-possession advantage and a smothering defensive effort that limited the Bengals to 189 total net yards (33 in the first half) and produced two turnovers (one interception, one recovered fumble). Arizona's special teams posted a third turnover (recovered fumble). Running back Garrison Hearst authored the Cards' first two touchdowns, a one-yard run and a 10-yard pass to running back Larry Centers. A 15-yard connection from quarterback Jay Schroeder to wide receiver Ricky Proehl early in the second quarter produced the third touchdown. Centers, who later rushed for the final six points on a 10-yard draw play, caught four passes to raise his season total to 72, breaking Ottis Anderson's 70-catch 1984 single-season franchise reception record for running backs.

✓Series Notes

December 8, 1996 ● Dallas 10, Cardinals 6 (H)

The Dallas Cowboys returned to Sun Devil Stadium for the first time since winning Super Bowl XXX on the same field and prevailed in a defensive struggle for their 13th consecutive victory over the Cardinals. Two Kevin Butler field goals staked Arizona to a 6–0 halftime lead. The Cowboys returned the favor in the second half, holding the Cardinals scoreless (four punts, one fumble, one interception) while posting 10 points on a 50-yard touchdown reception by wide receiver Michael Irvin and a 31-yard Chris Boniol field goal. The Cardinal defense held Dallas to 80 yards rushing and recovered two Cowboy fumbles at the Arizona nine- and five-yard lines to thwart scoring threats. The game's pivotal exchange occurred midway through the third quarter with the Cards nursing their 6–0 lead. Running back Leeland McElroy fumbled following a 32-yard at the Pokes' 32-yard line. Irvin, who caught eight passes for 198 yards, tallied the game's only touchdown four plays later. The Cowboys' 10 points followed two of Arizona's four turnovers (two fumbles, two interceptions). Despite reaching Dallas territory six times in 11 possessions, Arizona's offense could muster only two field goals. It was Arizona's third touchdownless outing of 1996 and its second against Dallas.

✓Series Notes

Dallas holds a 46–20–1 series lead and owns a 13-game winning streak, including sweeps each of the past six seasons ... the Cards swept both 1989 contests for the first time since 1970 ... December 1, 1996 ● Minnesota 41, Cardinals 17 (A)

The Vikings dominated the contest from start to finish en route to a convincing 41–17 verdict. Minnesota posted touchdowns on its first four second-half possessions to swell its 13–3 halftime lead to 41–10. The Vikings' 41-point explosion, highlighted by quarterback Brad Johnson's four touchdown passes to four different receivers—Amp Lee (19 yards), Jake Reed (40 yards), Qadry Ismail (13 yards), and Cris Carter (4 yards)—was the highest total allowed by the Cardinals since a 41–3 loss at Washington on Nov. 29, 1992, a span of 66 games. The Viking defense forced three Arizona turnovers, all by quarterback Boomer Esiason (two interceptions, one fumble), leading to 17 Viking points. It also limited the Cardinals to 35 yards rushing on 12 attempts. Minnesota enjoyed a lopsided 37:46–22:14 time-of-possession advantage. While directing the Vikes' turnover-free effort, Johnson completed 19-of-26 passes for 238 yards and four touchdowns. Fullback Larry Centers tallied both Arizona touchdowns in the fourth quarter, the first a nine-yard pass from Esiason, the second a one-yard run.

✓Series Notes

The Cardinals maintain an 8–7 advantage ... in the last two meetings, the Vikings edged Arizona 30–24 in overtime at Sun Devil Stadium in 1995 and logged a convincing 41–17 decision last year in the Metrodome ... prior to 1995, Arizona cruised to a 17–7 victory in 1994 after Minnesota outscored the Cardinals by a combined 62–7 in two 1991 contests—34–7 in the Metrodome and 28–0 at Sun Devil Stadium ... the Vikings defeated the Cards 30–14 at Minnesota in the first round of 1974 playoff action ... the Cards' 56 points in a 56–14 drubbing of the Vikings at Metropolitan Stadium in 1963 stands as the most points allowed by a Viking team and the fourth highest single-game total in Cardinal history.

September 22, 1996 ● Cardinals 28, New Orleans 14 (A)

Vince Tobin earned his first victory at the Cardinals' helm thanks to reserve running back LeShon Johnson's 214-yard franchise-record rushing explosion. Johnson's effort was the best rushing total by a Cardinal since the only other 200-yard day in franchise history, John David Crow's 203 yards vs. Pittsburgh on Dec. 18, 1960, a span of 542 games. Quarterback Kent Graham, making his first start as a Cardinal and his fifth in the NFL, guided an Arizona offense that amassed 432 total yards, including 267 on the ground, the team's highest rushing total since setting the club record of 330 yards at New Orleans on Oct. 5, 1980. The Cardinals broke open the tight contest in the second half by scoring three touchdowns in the span of eight plays from scrimmage. After Graham and wide receiver Rob Moore collaborated on a 20-yard touchdown pass and a two-point conversion completion, Johnson padded Arizona's 14–7 lead with 56- and 70-yard fourth-quarter touchdown bursts, the longest touchdown runs on consecutive carries in NFL history. The latter was the Cards' longest scoring jaunt since Ottis Anderson rambled 76 yards vs. Dallas on Sept. 2, 1979. The touchdowns were the first of Johnson's career.

✓Series Notes

This season's meeting marks the sixth time in the past eight seasons the teams have met in regular-season play ...the Cardinals maintain an 11–9 lead in the series that dates to 1967 ... the Saints won the first four contests in the '90s before Arizona's 28-14 decision last year ... the two teams combined for 93 points in a 51–42 Saints win in 1969, just 10 shy of the all-time NFL record for most combined points in a single game, and set a league standard for most combined touchdowns passing in a game as quarterbacks Billy Kilmer (Saints) and Charley Johnson (Cardinals) each tossed six scoring passes ... though it was a preseason game, the Cardinals provided New Orleans its first victory as a new franchise, a 23–14 decision at Shreveport, Louisiana during the 1967 preseason.

The Cardinals tallied touchdowns on three consecutive first-half possessions, including their first two first-quarter touchdowns in 19 games, en route to a wire-to-wire 31–23 victory over the Giants. Once the Cards' lead reached 14–0, New York never was able to pull to within eight points or less and regain possession of the ball. Arizona's 31-point outburst was its highest point total against the Giants since 1984 (31 points). The Cardinal defense limited New York to three field goals on the Giants' three longest drives (11–57, 16–88, 16–49). New York turnovers led to 10 Cardinal points—Arizona's second touchdown, fullback Cedric Smith's first career rushing six-pointer followed cornerback Aeneas Williams' fourth interception, and an 18-yard Kevin Butler field goal. Quarterback Boomer Esiason passed the 20-mile mark in career passing yardage. Rookie defensive end Simeon Rice posted two quarterback sacks to raise his season total to eight, breaking Ken Harvey's 1988 Cardinal rookie record (6). The Cardinals cracked the 30-point barrier for the second consecutive game for the first time in 132 outings (weeks five-six, 1988). Running backs Larry Centers (39 yards) and LeShon Johnson (35 yards) registered their longest career pass receptions.

✔Series Notes

One of the NFL's ancient rivalries and the lengthiest for the Cardinals ... the Giants hold a 22–10–1 advantage in the series since 1980 and 70–37–2 overall dating to 1926 ... the Cardinals snapped a 10-game losing streak at Giants Stadium with a dramatic 10–9 victory at the Meadowlands in 1994 ... a 19–0 shutout at Sun Devil Stadium in 1992 broke the Giants' eight-game winning streak ... the Giants provided the opposition for the final game of the 1974 season when the Cardinals roared back from a 14–0 halftime deficit for a 26–14 win and their first division crown since 1948 ... the Giants also were the Cardinals' foe in the club's final game in St. Louis, a 27–24 Cardinal victory on December 13, 1987.

The playoff-bound Eagles tallied a defensive touchdown in the game's first minute, the first of 16 unanswered Philadelphia points, and never were threatened in the regular-season finale for both teams. By the fourth quarter, Philadelphia's advantage swelled to 29–6 before two quick Cardinal touchdowns—a 22-yard reception by running back Leeland McElroy, and a 65-yard interception return by Pro Bowl cornerback Aeneas Williams, the Cards' second defensive touchdown in as many weeks and the sixth of Williams' career (fourth by interception)—narrowed the gap to the final 29–19 count. Eagle kicker Gary Anderson established a Cardinal single-game opponent record with five field goals. Arizona mustered only 229 total yards (71 rushing). Middle linebacker Eric Hill put the finishing touches on his finest NFL season with 14 solo tackles and 21 combined tackles, both team bests for 1996, and the Cards' top effort since safety Lorenzo Lynch posted the same numbers in overtime vs. Chicago on November 27, 1994, a span of 37 games. The Cards finished with a 7–9 record, their 12th consecutive non-winning campaign. Fullback Larry Centers' six receptions raised his 1996 total to 99 catches to lead the league's running backs for the second consecutive season.

✔Series Notes

The Eagles hold a slight 49–47–5 edge in the series that dates to 1935 ... the teams have split five of the past seven years (1990–91, '93–94, '96) ... October 30, 1994 ● Cardinals 20, Pittsburgh 17-OT (H)

The Cardinals' second consecutive home sellout crowd—a first since moving to Phoenix—saw Arizona's second overtime victory in a three-week span. Ball-control offense (11:28 advantage) and a staunch defense (one interception, two recovered fumbles, four quarterback sacks) that held the opposition below 100 rushing yards for the seventh time in eight outings was the difference. The Cardinals jumped to a 10–7 first-half lead, highlighted by their longest play of the season, a 63-yard pass reception to wide receiver Ricky Proehl, that set the table for a four-yard Larry Centers touchdown run. The lead was short-lived when Steeler quarterback Neil O'Donnell hit wide receiver Yancy Thigpen with a 60-yard touchdown pass. The Cards responded with an eight-play, 74-yard drive that running back Ronald Moore ended with a one-yard touchdown plunge, giving Arizona a 17–14 halftime lead. Late in the fourth quarter, a near-sack turned into a 46-yard pass completion to Steeler tight end Eric Green that set the stage for Gary Anderson's game-tying field goal with 51 seconds remaining. Card linebacker/long snapper Randy Kirk caused a fumble on the overtime kickoff that Arizona recovered, and four plays later, Greg Davis booted a 51-yard game-winning field goal.

✔Series Notes

The Steelers lead the series dating to 1933 by a margin of 30–25–3 ... since 1972, the two teams have met just five times ... Pittsburgh won the first three contests by scores of 25–19 in 1972, 24–21 in 1979, and 23–10 in 1985 ... the Cardinals broke the streak with a 31–14 victory in 1988 and 20–17 overtime win in 1994, both at Sun Devil Stadium ... from 1952–69, the teams met twice per season as members of the same conference (American 1952, Eastern 1954–1966, Century Division 1967–1969) until the AFL-NFL merger in 1970 when Pittsburgh was transferred to the American Conference.

October 20, 1996 ● Cardinals 13, Tampa Bay 9 (H)

Ball-control, turnover-free offenses and remarkably even statistics accented a low-scoring affair that produced only seven possessions for each team. The 10 points the Cardinals tallied on their first two trips downfield proved to be enough. Arizona held the ball for 12:15 of the first quarter, 6:30 of the second stanza. Tampa Bay monopolized the pigskin for 8:39 of the third quarter, 9:55 of the fourth. Greg Davis' 22-yard first-quarter field goal was the work of a 16-play, 76-yard drive. A five-yard Kent Graham-to-Larry Centers second-quarter touchdown pass ended a 16-play, 81-yard drive that took 8:11 off the clock. The teams traded third-quarter field goals. Davis' 37-yard three-pointer ended a 14-play, 74-yard drive that took 6:21. Tampa Bay's early fourth-quarter touchdown, a one-yard plunge by rookie fullback Mike Alstott, was tempered when Cardinal strong safety Matt Darby blocked the point-after-touchdown attempt. Tampa Bay also missed two field goals. The Cardinal defense punctuated the ending by limiting the Bucs to two first downs on their final two possessions that never reached Arizona territory. The Cards also were flagged for only two penalties for just 15 yards compared to 14 flags for 114 yards for Tampa Bay. Graham led the Cardinals in rushing with 40 yards in addition to 146 yards passing. The two teams produced only two plays from scrimmage over 20 yards, both Tampa Bay pass completions (24 and 21 yards).

✔Series Notes

The Cardinals and Buccaneers have met 13 times ... the Cardinals hold a 7–6 edge in the series ... the series began in 1977 when the Buccaneers prevailed 17–7 at Tampa Stadium, the second-year franchise's first home victory in its final home game of the year and 14th overall ... the Cards enjoyed a string of five consecutive victories with home-and-road conquests of the Bucs in 1986, 1987, and a single road win in 1988 ... the Buccaneers won three consecutive encounters—14–13 in 1989, 23–7 and 7–3 in 1992—before the 13–9 Arizona victory last year ... only five of the 13 meetings, including the 1996 contest, have been staged on the Cardinals' home field.

December 4, 1994 ● Cardinals 30, Houston 12 (A)

Arizona posted season-highs in points (30) and rushing yards (161), a lopsided two-to-one time-of-possession advantage (39:55–20:05), and its most impressive defensive effort of the year to down Houston at the Astrodome. The Oilers' defense staked 1–11 Houston to a quick 9–0 first-quarter lead by tackling Card quarterback Jay Schroeder in the end zone for a safety, and returning an interception 36 yards for a touchdown (Cris Dishman). Five Card pass interceptions, one fumble recovery, and four quarterback sacks paced Arizona's comeback, directly leading to two field goals, a touchdown, and a safety. The first of two rushing touchdowns by running back Larry Centers broke the Cards' nine-quarter touchdownless drought. Trailing 12–10 early in the fourth stanza, the Cards tallied 20 fourth-quarter points while holding the Oilers scoreless after intermission. The 23-yard field goal kicker Greg Davis contributed to the offensive barrage, his second of the afternoon, was his 10th straight three-point success, equalling the Card record for consecutive field goals. Safety Terry Hoage led the dominant defense with two pass interceptions and a fumble recovery. Houston completed only 11 of 34 passes for 161 yards, added just 37 yards rushing, and was zero-for-nine on third-down. Cornerback Aeneas Williams assumed the NFL interception lead with his eighth pickoff.

Houston won the next two games—20–10 at Busch Stadium in 1985 and 38–20 at the Astrodome in 1988 ... Arizona was victorious in the most recent encounter, a 30–12 win in the Astrodome in 1994.

✓Last Meeting

December 15, 1996 ● Cardinals 27, Washington 26-OT (H)

The Cardinals used a last-play Kevin Butler field goal to better Washington for the second time in 1996, Arizona's seventh victory in its past eight meetings against the Redskins. It was Butler's 15th career game-winning field goal.The teams traded unusual second-quarter scoring plays. Pro Bowl defensive tackle Eric Swann scooped a Redskin fumble and returned it 11 yards before lateraling to outside linebacker Jamir Miller who raced the final 26 yards. Two minutes later, Marcus Dowdell's muffed punt return was recovered by Redskin Scott Turner in Arizona's end zone for the first of four consecutive Washington scores—two touchdowns, two field goals. The Redskins led 23–14. The Cards revived with a Butler field goal and a 21-yard scoring pass (Kent Graham to Frank Sanders) to take a short-lived 24–23 lead in the fourth quarter. A 35-yard field goal by Scott Blanton gave Washington a 26–24 advantage with 7:14 to play. Graham drove Arizona 69 yards on 15 plays to set the table for Butler's heroics. Arizona tallied its first opening-drive touchdown in 42 games. Defensive end Simeon Rice collected two sacks to raise his season total to 12.5, equalling the 1986 NFL rookie record of San Diego's Leslie O'Neal.

✓Series Notes

Cardinals have won seven of the past eight meetings, including sweeps in 1993, '94, and '96 ... Washington still has won 31 of the last 44 games dating to 1937 ... prior to the '93 sweep, the last time the Cardinals defeated the Redskins twice in the same season was 1974 ... the Cards' victory in the first 1993 meeting, a 17–10 triumph, was their first success at RFK Stadium since 1978 following 14 consecutive losses ... the Cardinals' first contest against Washington in 1988, a 30–21 win September 25, was their first home-field success in Arizona and snapped a seven-game Redskin series winning streak ... Washington won eight of the next nine encounters.

Sun Devil Stadium

Sun Devil Stadium, home to Arizona State University football since 1958 and the Fiesta Bowl since 1971, added the National Football League to its storied past in 1988 when the Cardinals also took residence "between the buttes."

Super Bowl XXX was played at Sun Devil Stadium on January 28, 1996!

Literally carved from the desert, Sun Devil Stadium sits in a spectacular setting between two mountain buttes in Tempe, Arizona southeast of Phoenix.

Originally erected in 1958, Sun Devil Stadium has been expanded four times (1976, '77, '88, and '89). Capacity for NFL football in 1997 will be 73,158. Improvements costing over $23 million have been made over the past nine years.

A $1.67 million field renovation (lowering and widening), completed in June of 1992, was the most recent major upgrade. Besides providing significantly more sideline space, the project also changed the look of the stadium by removing the characteristic moats in favor of field-level walkways. Ninety thousand square feet of Tifway 419 sod, the same grass that adorns the Cardinals' training facility, covers a unique layering support system that includes hot-water tubes designed to fool Mother Nature (delay dormancy) and promote growth during cooler months. Although approximately 1,300 seats were lost during the renovation, the project eliminated sightline problems that had caused obstructed views from lower-row seats.

The bowl (south) end was connected five years ago by Arizona State's six-story Intercollegiate Athletic Complex building and an extension of loge-level seats. A state-of-the-art video replay scoreboard and locker rooms in the north end also were added. The color video replay system, situated in the southwest corner, offers fans instant replays of game action. A complementary matrix board for messages and statistical information sits in the southeast corner.

In 1989, $11.5 million was spent to construct a three-story, 60,000 square-foot building atop the upper deck on the west side containing two 30-suite levels and topped by a modern press box and eight additional private suites. Served by four industrial-sized elevators—one for the media and three for the public—the addition offers working space for 200 sportswriters, broadcast booths, booth space for statistical crews, coaches, public address personnel, security, scoreboard operations, and a rooftop camera deck in addition to suite seating for over 900 fans.

Super Bowl XXX required a number of improvements, including a new sound system, four new light poles at each corner of the stadium, new light fixtures to existing light standards on the east and west sides, and a resodded playing field.

Sun Devil Stadium proved a most hospitable host to the Cardinals in the team's inaugural season in Arizona in 1988 when seven of the Cards' eight regular-season home games broke the club's previous single-game attendance record. The season total of 472,937 fans also easily eclipsed the Cardinal franchise's single-season home attendance mark.

In 1994, the Cards again broke their single-season attendance mark when 497,330 fans, or an average of 62,166 patrons per game, spun the Sun Devil Stadium turnstiles.

The largest crowd in Cardinal history—73,025—witnessed the Cards' September 19, 1993 battle against the eventual Super Bowl champion Dallas Cowboys at Sun Devil Stadium.

The 10 largest crowds to watch Cardinal home games all have been played at Sun Devil Stadium since the team's 1988 arrival in Arizona.

Sun Devil Stadium, located between two buttes on the northern edge of Arizona State University in Tempe, was the site of Super Bowl XXX on January 28, 1996.

Training Facility

Rising from a former cotton field in south Tempe is the Cardinals' training facility and corporate headquarters.

Covering 14.7 acres of land, the Cardinals' home since September of 1990 is a 94,000 square-foot state-of-the-art facility sporting desert building materials, and three and one-half acres of Southwestern (Sonoran) desert landscaping that leaves no doubt where the team proudly calls home.

Possessing many characteristics that distinguish it as both a football facility and an Arizona landmark, the showcase complex has won numerous architectural and landscape awards. In the spring of 1996, it also served as a location for the filming of the movie "Jerry Maguire" starring Tom Cruise.

The facility incorporates local materials such as copper, desert brick, and clay tile, complemented by desert landscaping which integrate into the natural surroundings.

Environmentally sensitive, it utilizes passive solar energy to light offices and corridors while employing masonry and shadow to eliminate heat.

The interior joins many important concepts. Specificity of design is reflected in the workout areas on the first level where a number of planned activities can occur simultaneously. Facilities are situated along a logical traffic pattern to accommodate a progressive flow of activities.

The first floor consists of player facilities that include the training area, an auditorium, locker room, hydrotherapy (15-player in-floor jacuzzi and cold plunge) and spa rooms, indoor/outdoor weight-training room, offensive and defensive meeting rooms, and film/videotape rooms. They open to three playing fields (one lighted) on nearly five acres of land.

The second floor comprises the administration and operations areas that include the coaching staff's offices. On the second and third floors, natural lighting and breezeways combine with advanced communications technology to create the most flexible office space possible. The integration of current electronic and construction technologies also makes the facility more economical to operate and easier to maintain.

The main building is flanked by a two-story attached building that includes a public area, the ticket office, and the public relations department that houses a media center featuring custom-designed work carrels, private interview rooms, televisions, and a reference library. Another two-story building housing two handball courts completes the complex.

Tifway 419 sod, the same hybrid used for golf course putting greens and the Sun Devil Stadium playing surface, covers seven and one-half acres on the east side of the building and includes three laser-leveled side-by-side practice fields. Underneath lies a complex lateral piping, sub-drainage system constructed with drainage tiles that accommodate as much as three inches of rain water that can be drained from all three fields, making them playable within three hours.

Furthermore, many details are invisible to the naked eye. For example, the fields and team building are set at the same angle as Sun Devil Stadium, the Cards' home field at Arizona State University, allowing simulation of the position of the sun under game conditions.

The Cardinals' training facility in south Tempe boasts a Southwestern look that leaves no doubt where the team calls home.
